FIRST EDITION.

THE MODOC MURDERERS.

Interview with Gen. Davis

His Reasons for Determining to Execute Captain Jack and Others of the Captive Savages.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—General Davis, in conversation with a special correspondent of the Bulletin, June 11th, gave the following statement:

"When I arrived in the field I found the troops engaged in war with a band of Indian outlaws and murderers, wards of the general government, who had revolted against authority, and were fighting mercilessly, neither expecting nor giving quarter. I then thought the captives taken should be executed on the spot, as the surest and safest method of settling the Modoc problem. When captured while fighting against the military forces of the United States, as a separate nation or tribe, I was disposed to deal with them accordingly. Since their capture I have ascertained that the authorities of Jackson county, Oregon, haev found indictments against certain members of the band, but I have not deemed it proper to turn them over to the civil courts, because they were waging war against the government at the time the murders, upon which the indictments are based, were committed; also for the reason that after capture they were prisoners of the government, and not directly amenable to civil laws.

"During my command here I have observed that the citizens, when desiring protection for person, property, or indemnification of loss, invariably appeal to the authority of the United States; but now that the war is over, and the marauders are captives, both the public and local authorities want to take the punishment of the offenders in their own hands. The threats of the people and the recent bloody act in this neighbourhood, when four old, defenceless captives, en route from Fairchild's ranche to camp, were murdered by civilians, indicate that a trial by civil law would be a useless farce. The people have made up their minds that the prisoners are guilty.

"It is suggested that a military commission should be ordered to try the criminals. If the idea is carried out, the officers composing the Court should be of high rank, and men who have had no immediate connection with the Modoc difficulty. Such commission would probably try each case separately, and require about six months to perform the work, to say nothing of the expense involved in such proceeding—immense expense to the government. Besides, everybody, civil as well as military, knows that the Indians are guilty of murder in the first degree and ought to hang.

"I thought to avoid the unnecessary expense and farce of trial by doing the work myself. Owing to the dilatory manner in which the Modocs were treated by those in charge in the beginning of these difficulties, the Indians obtained fearful advantage over the United States and slaughtered so many people that the country was astonished, even shocked, and now fear they will get advantage in the closing scenes. This same fear is disturbing the minds of many citizens of the frontier. Justice has already been very tardy in coming, is approaching from so many different directions, in such questionable shape and garbs, that I doubt her success in meeting the requirements of the case.

"The Modocs do not recognize the jurisdiction of civil or military courts, because they are incapable of comprehending their workings. These Modocs cannot understand what is meant by court. They have been interrogated on that subject. They would regard a court trial, with its technicalities and testimony, as a kind of jugglery, and if convicted and sentenced to death, they could not be made to understand that justice figured in the business at all. They believe they have committed deeds that merit death. In fact the real murderers have expected to be hanged. They believe the military have the power and the right to inflict punishment.

"The murders and arrests occurred in Oregon or California. My proposed course was to settle the question by a single stroke. The gordian knot was to be cut. The Indians are cooped up in tents, men, women and children, guilty and innocent, all fearing massacre all the time. They must remain in this condition of suspense for months to come. I had procured a number of chains, rope and tackle, and all the paraphernalia of execution, and had selected Friday last as doomsday. Thursday forenoon I drew up this declaration of charges, and read it to Jack later in the day:

"HEADQUARTERS, DEPARTMENT OF COLUMBIA, IN THE FIELD, TULE LAKE, CAL., June, 1873.

"Jack: Since white men began to travel through or settle in the country occupied by the Modocs, the people of which you claim to be one of the chiefs, the Modocs have been known as a band of merciless robbers and murderers. The history of your tribe is filled with murders of the white race. Even among your Indian neighbors you are known as a domineering and tyrannical tribe. Old settlers in the country report as many as three hundred murders committed by your people within the limits of the present generation. Along the shores of this beautiful little lake, in view of which we now stand, are the graves of over sixty victims of Modoc barbarity, all murdered by your immediate ancestors. They were peaceful emigrants, men, women and children, passing quietly through the country on the public highway. For these many crimes no adequate punishment has ever been meted upon the guilty, either as a tribe or individually. Upon the contrary, the government has lately overlooked them. A few years ago, regardless of these acts of treachery, it gave you a reservation of land for a home, where, if you chose, you could remain and enjoy the annual bounties of the government unmolested. You all went upon the reservation thus provided, and part of your tribe has remained. But you and your band seem to have preferred the war-path. You left the reservation; you spurned the kindness of the government; even resisted the soldiers in the execution of their duties to force you back to the reservation. You hastened the war by emulating the bloody deeds of your fathers. You again strewed the shores of Tule lake with the victims of your bloody bands. All these victims were peaceful citizens, unsuspectingly slaughtered while pursuing their daily avocations. You then fled to your stronghold, the Lava Bed, prepared for war, and defied the power of the government. Still the President, at Washington, ordered the soldiers to desist until the Peace Commissioners could have a talk with you, and if possible avoid shedding more blood. Their efforts were fruitless. After much delay and many attempts at conciliation on their part, you decoyed the Commissioners into your hands. These acts have placed you and your band outside the rules of civilized warfare. In other words, you have made yourselves outlaws. As such, since my arrival here as the successor of General Canby, whom you murdered with your own hands, I have made unremitting warfare upon you, until at last you have been captured, after much expense to the government and the loss of many valuable lives. Now that I have recounted the history of your tribe, and the recent acts of yourself and band, I will close this interview by informing you that I have this day directed that you and your confederates, members of your band, be executed at sunset to-morrow, in the presence of the troops, paraded for that purpose, your people, and the assembled citizens of the country.

"While I was preparing a list of those I intended to execute, a courier arrived with instructions from Washington, 'Hold the prisoners until further orders.' After the execution I intended organizing all the force for the purpose of starting for Columbia and seeing and talking with as many chiefs as possible while en route. I knew that the prompt execution of the Modoc outlaws would facilitate peace talk among the Indians of Oregon, Washington Territory and California, and have a tendency to quiet the Indians all through the country. The Indians all know that we have captured the Modocs. They will quickly learn the news if the death penalty is inflicted. The achievement would result in mutual benefit to both the Indians and whites. With the prestige the troops have gained, we could do great good by such a campaign."

CRIMES.

Trial for Murder by Poison.

PATERSON, N. J., June 12.—The trial of Van Winkle Bogert for the murder by poison of Ransom F. Burroughs, in December, 1871, was taken up this morning. A jury was obtained in one hour. The Court overruled challenges based on the plea that a juror had read the evidence and formed an opinion, unless counsel could prove that the juror could not give an impartial verdict according to evidence.

The Arkansas Governorship.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., June 12.—It having been reported that Mr. Brooks would issue a proclamation declaring himself Governor, a Gazette reporter interviewed him this evening on the subject. He stated there was no foundation for the report whatever; that he knew nothing of any intention to organize or attempt to set up a new State government, beyond the rumors he had heard. Prosecuting Attorney McGehee, who was sent to jail for ten days by Judge Mosse, at Pine Bluff, a few days ago, having purged himself of contempt, has been released.

NEWS SUMMARY.

RELIGIOUS.

The General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the United States.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

CANTON, OHIO, June 10, 1873.

This body meets in this city on Wednesday the 11th, at 9 o'clock A. M., in the church of which Rev. L. M. Kuhns is pastor.

This General Synod is one of the several branches of the Lutheran Church of the United States. It was organized in 1820, and consists of clerical and lay delegates elected by the District Synods in the several States. It embraces twenty-one District Synods, six hundred ministers and 103,000 members. In 1866 it was divided by the secession of several Synods under the leadership of Revs. Drs. C. P. Krauth, Passavant, Seiss, Schaffer and others, who organized what is now called the "General Council." It represents the progressive element of the Lutheran Church, and is more Americanized than any other of the different divisions. Whilst it has the Augsburg Confession for its creed, yet it is not a stickler for the old forms of the past.

Rev. Dr. Diehl, of Frederick, Maryland, is the President, and will preach the opening sermon, of which, with the business as it progresses, we will give an account.

CANTON, June 11, 1873.

The General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the United States met this morning at nine o'clock. The usual opening services were conducted by the President, Rev. G. Diehl, D. D., of Frederick, Md., assisted by the Secretary, Rev. M. Sheeligh, of Whitemarsh, Pa., and Rev. Dr. Morris, of Baltimore, Md.

The President then read his text—Ephe ii. 19, from which he delivered the Synodical Sermon. His allusion to the circumstances of the text was very apt and beautiful, saying that Paul, perhaps, had in view, when he wrote the words, the magnificent temple of Diana, that whilst the disciples had no such structure, yet they had a temple of far greater magnificence. He said that the church was built upon the great doctrines of the Gospel—that Jesus Christ was the corner-stone of this building—that the material of this building were believers—all who had been wounded. This temple has been made up of all nations, times and places of the earth; the great Architect gathered His material out of all the quarries of the world; that this building must be built up harmoniously; all the diverse material must be molded into one harmonious structure. The design of this temple was, Holiness. All the means of grace were intended to bring men back to the purity from which they had fallen, that they might grow up into a holy temple in the Lord. The religion of Christ is to make man like unto Himself.

Several lessons were to be learned from this design: that as ministers we should endeavor to bear in mind, that as subordinates we are to aim to make men holy; that we should aim to gather our material from every class and grade of society, everywhere gather material from all quarries; that we should not bring in anything that would mar the beauty and symmetry; that there should be no unnecessary controversies, no unsightly projections; the necessity of great diligence in our work as a Church in helping to erect this temple of Christ; that in every department of our Zion there should be earnest effort—the latent power of the Church be brought out until all, each in his proper place, do his own work.

The discourse was well prepared—delivered in the Doctor's usual impressive style, and its influence upon the audience was good, judging from the excellent attention given.

After the sermon the President proceeded to organize the Synod, which was done by singing a hymn and the offering of a prayer by the President. The roll of Synods was then called, and the names and certificates of the delegates of the present General Synod read. The election of officers came next in order, and resulted in the choice of Rev. M. Baum, D.D., of York, Pa., President; Rev. Prof. S. Ort, of Wittenberg Synod, Springfield, O., Secretary, and O. F. Ockershausen, Esq., of New York city, Treasurer. Dr. Baum, on taking the chair, made a very neat and appropriate speech, thanking the Synod for the expression of confidence reposed, asking the support of the Synod in the discharge of his duties and praying the aid of God's spirit in the work committed to them.

Frank Hormel, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was appointed Assistant Secretary. There are about one hundred and fifty delegates present, also many visitors. Synod adjourned until 2 o'clock P. M., after prayer by Dr. Butler. G.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CANTON, OHIO, June 12, 1873.

To-day, the second of the Convention of the Synod of the Lutheran Church, was commenced by half an hour of devotional exercises, and then the transaction of business was proceeded with. The President announced the following committees: On the State of the Church, Credentials, Devotional Exercises, Literary and Theological Institutions, Correspondence with other Churches, and Treasurer's Report and Mileage.

The President then announced Foreign Missions as the order of the day. Dr. A. C. Weidekind, Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, read the seventeenth biennial report, which includes their operations in the two foreign fields, India and Africa.

The afternoon session adjourned at 4:30 P. M., with prayer by the Rev. Henniguausen.

POLITICAL.

State.

Colonel A. K. McClure declares his intention to retire altogether from politics upon the expiration of his present Senatorial term. He expresses himself warmly in favor of Alexander Henry for Mayor of Philadelphia during the centennial year.

The Erie Observer says that there is some comfort, after all, in being a Democrat in Erie county. One is not bored by candidates for nomination to the several county offices.

The Kittanning Free Press says: The Republican county nominations, we are gratified to learn, give entire satisfaction throughout the county, and a hearty and united support will be given the whole ticket. With the proper party organization, it will make a clean sweep of the track in October, and be triumphantly elected by a large majority.

At the meeting of the Clearfield county Republican Committee, John H. Fulford, Esq., was chosen Representative delegate, and instructed to support Hon. Samuel Henry for State Treasurer. S. J. Row and W. J. Hemphill were appointed Senatorial conferees.

The Scranton Republican says: The ancient Democracy of the Keystone State is a party of many sorrows, many tribulations and many defeats. The organization, however, has its strongholds, to which it apparently retreats after every reverse, and from which it emerges annually about this season to sun itself for a little while until the storms of October again drive it to its fastnesses in Berks, Monroe, Pike, Northampton and York. A few days ago this old party appeared again more than ever begrimed with the dust and cobwebs of time, more bleak and mildewed than ever before, more cheerless and irritable even than during the years of the rebellion. This old political organization has once more emerged into the light of day, with the decrepitude of age and the scars of numerous defeats upon it, to enter into yet another contest with the young giant of Republicanism. It has not yet recovered from the contest and crushing defeats of last October and November, but it still has sufficient life in it to snarl and growl as in the past.

The Indiana county Democratic Committee met on Tuesday and selected Dr. S. R. Rutledge, of Blairsville, as delegate to the State Convention, instructed to support D. O. Barr, of this city, for State Treasurer. The senatorial delegate was conceded to Westmoreland county. The County Convention will be held on the 25th of August, the primary election on the 23d.

The Democrats of Franklin county held their Convention on Tuesday, and nominated the following ticket: For Assembly, George W. Welsh; Treasurer, Hiram M. White; Commissioner, William D. Guthrie; Director of the Poor, J. H. McCulloch; Auditor, D. B. Russell; Jury Commissioner, John Gilbert; Coroner, Dr. William P. Noble.

There are three candidates for the State Senate this fall in the Lehigh Carbon district. They are Edwin Albright, present State Senator, Adam Woolever and Herman Rupp.

General.

The Ohio Liberal Republicans desire to preserve an independent organization. Anxious to encourage so laudable a purpose, a Cincinnati enthusiast offers to lend them an ash-barrel to meet in.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

The candidates for the Chief Justiceship, as far as classified, are Judge Noah Swayne, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court; Judge David K. Cartter of Ohio, Judge Pierrepont, Justice Miller, Roscoe Conkling, and Morrison R. Waite of Ohio; Judge Geo. H. Williams, Attorney General; ex-Governor Morgan, the Hon. E. R. Hoar, William M. Evarts, Judge Benjamin R. Curtis of Massachusetts, Senator Morton, Jeremiah Black, Charles Sumner, Judge Doe of New Hampshire, and Lyman Trumbull of Illinois, with twenty-eight other States to hear from.

The St. Louis Democrat gets at its cotemporary, the Republican, thus: Some ignoramus of a correspondent having said that a prominent gentleman of Louisiana had made serious charges to the President reflecting on Judge Durell, and that the President had promised to remove Durell if the charges were proved, the Republican inquires: "Who believes the President would remove Durell if the charges were proved?" Nobody with any sense, and for the simple reason that the President has no more right to remove Durell than Durell has to remove the President.

Of the Democratic situation in Ohio the Toledo Blade says: "The Democrats in this State, or rather the managers of that party, started off in their work last spring with great confidence in their ability to do something worth laboring for. They were greatly encouraged at the outset, and could not repress their joyous emotions, even going so far as to publicly announce just what they intended to accomplish. But time makes wondrous changes, and even the most reasonable anticipations to all appearances, are sometimes discovered to have been without substantial foundation. This was the case with the Democratic hopes and expectations that they would carry Ohio at the coming election, with ease. On sounding the sentiment of the party, they find that there is no harmony of opinion and little disposition to yield for the sake of united effort. One faction insists that General Ewing shall be the candidate for Governor; but another class—the old line Democrats—are opposed to Ewing because he was a soldier. They have sworn never to support a soldier who wore the blue; if he had worn the grey, it would have been all right. Another class wants Sam. Cary for Governor and argue that he would catch a great many temperance votes; but then a loud cry comes up against this from the men who are opposed to temperance legislation, and Sam must be placed upon the shelf. An effort was made to bring out Groesbeck, but either his self-respect or the strong opposition to him in the party, caused the withdrawal of his name. Other lesser lights have sprung up in various sections of the State, but the only thing yet fully developed is the fact that the party is most gloriously inharmonious—that it is divided into factions almost without number, and that each faction insists upon having its own way or no way at all. It is seldom that a minority finds itself in just such a position. They can generally unite. But the Democracy of Ohio have become so demoralized, so thoroughly destitute of confidence in their leaders and in their cause, that each man seems to be determined to fight it out on his own line, without any reference to the course of other members of the party. There is little reason to hope for even a union of that party with the Liberals, unless the latter can be induced to eat even more than the usual quantity of dirt."

Discovery in Wood Paper Manufacture.

"Burleigh" writes to the Boston Journal: "A young man of this city, a son of a clergyman, has brought to light an invention that promises a fortune to himself and great benefit to the community. The manufacture of paper from wood is carried on to a limited extent. There are only certain kinds of wood that can be used for the manufacture of paper, and scarcity of material makes the paper very high. By the discovery I have alluded to, paper can be made out of any of the hard woods, while a pulp from the Southern pine makes a paper at once tough, handsome and cheap. The sap is extracted by steam, and the process of making the paper is very simple and inexpensive. Paper men say that the invention will revolutionize their trade."

The epizootic turns out to be an hereditary disease in Iowa. Colts in Plymouth county, as soon as they are foaled, show all the symptoms of the horse disease which attacked their progenitors last year, and are dying in large numbers; sixty deaths are reported in one township.

WASHINGTON.

Official Looseness Developed

Relics of Johnson's Administration.

The Vexed Indian Question.

The North Pole Uncertainty.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12, 1873.

Official Looseness During Johnson's Administration.

The Secretary of the Treasury has received a decidedly startling array of facts connected with the erratic administration of Andy Johnson. The narrative of this little piece of official looseness on the part of several of Andy's particular friends is contained in a straightforward account, backed by affidavits from the parties, and makes over fifty pages of legal cap. This interesting paper states that General Rousseau, now deceased, while in command of the Department of the Gulf, headquarters at New Orleans, invited the informant to come to New Orleans to go into the importing business. Upon arriving there he found that the business alluded to was to import goods into New Orleans free of duty. Perry Fuller, also now deceased, was Collector of the Port. It seems that he, the surveyor of the Port, the weigher, and the informant, were to have certain dividends, while the necessary Inspectors were kindly and generally solaced for the benefit of this lucrative scheme of foreign importation. Special agents as they arrive, it seems, were also suddenly affected with the necessary amount of official blindness. The statement gives the names of the agents and others implicated. The fraud in sugars alone reached two hundred thousand dollars. This amount, it is understood, has been charged against Fuller's securities. What further action will be taken has not yet been determined.

The Indian Problem.

The serious troubles and temptations which have arisen on the subject of Indian affairs since the adjournment of Congress, and also the exposition of the questionable proceedings going on for years in the Indian administration, as shown in the investigations of the House committee, have turned the attention of public men to the necessity of an entire change in the legislation treating upon the difficult question. The Senate, during its last session, indicated this tendency when it decided to ratify no more treaties with the Indians. There is no doubt at the next session of Congress the Indian question will enter largely into the deliberations of that body, and some action will doubtless be taken to profit by the experience of the past few months.

The Polar Question.

In an interview to-day with Admiral Porter, that distinguished officer of the navy indicated that he had studied with great care the course of the Polar exploration conducted by Hall and the additional facts elicited through the rescued party. The Admiral stated that though the discovery of the region lying contiguous to the North Pole would be an important accession to our geographical knowledge, it would never be of any practical service to commerce or navigation. Under the most favorable circumstances it would be an hazardous undertaking to reach Asia or any other region by that route, and for about ten months of the year, even if an open passage during the summer were discovered, it would be impracticable to make use of it. For the sake of science the solution of the yet unfathomed mystery of the magnetic pole would be an extraordinary achievement. He did not think, however, that the anchoring of a ship or the planting of the stars and stripes at the point where those imaginary lines of longitude which invest this mundane sphere meet, would accomplish anything. He argued that the present and former expeditions reached within seven and eight degrees of this imaginary centre, that is, from four hundred and twenty to four hundred and eighty miles, a trifle more than the distance between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and yet no wonderful freaks of the compass, for instance, have been reported. The compass variations, as every one knows who has traveled at sea, runs in curves. It does not follow either that the place of meeting of the lines of longitude locate the pole. The deductions of scientific voyagers to these hyperborean regions have fixed it at a short distance from the mathematical pole. The fact of the compass dipping and possibly standing point downwards would indicate that the magnetic pole is located in the centre of the earth, and that magnetism is thrown off or radiated from there. He thought, too, that the procession of the Equinoxes effected a slight change every year, and though imperceptible in a life-time of a single human being, in a long succession of ages would very materially change the relations of the earth to the sun. This he pointed out was clearly vindicated in nature, and especially in the discovery of prehistoric human beings and animals of the lower orders, from the mastodon down to the infusoria of the ocean. This he thought was very forcibly presented in the debris of the tropical seas, where the remains of the smaller marine productions are found dead, while the same are alive in the north. He thought that the Polar mystery, though still a sealed question, was yearly getting nearer a solution through the reflected light of science. The busy world had labored all around the pole. It was fairly invested and would doubtless have to succumb to the persistent attacks of modern science.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12, 1873.

THE POLARIS INVESTIGATION CONCLUDED.

The Secretary of the Navy having completed the Polaris examination, was at the Department throughout to-day, and received a large number of persons on business. In reply to inquiries the Secretary said that the testimony of Captain Tyson and others was not yet in shape to be given to the press, but may be before the expiration of the week. It is the intention of those who were present at the examination to write a statement giving their conclusions on the question as afforded by the testimony.

IRONTON, OHIO.

Collision on the Iron Railroad—Three Passengers Injured.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

IRONTON, O., June 12, 1873.

The passenger train on the Iron Railroad, which should leave at 1 P. M., was twenty minutes behind time as it passed a curve. It checked for cattle and broke a coupling. The coal train came up behind, and, although every effort was made to prevent it, the locomotive ran into the rear car, forcing it into the second car. The passengers, seeing the train coming, endeavored to escape, and in so doing Mattie Bolles, of Lawrence furnace, was seriously injured. Her thighs and hips were dislocated and her bowels are injured, she being forced into the rear of the car. Jacob Mowry was badly hurt, one leg dislocated in two places. Mike Trat was slightly injured. There were but three passengers in the rear car, which was wrecked.

Zanesville Driving Park Races.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

ZANESVILLE, OHIO, June 12, 1873.

The attendance at the second day's races of the Zanesville Driving Park to-day was much larger than yesterday and the speed fine. First race, running, for a purse of $500; Hartland, 1, 1; Mollie Cad. 3, 3; Latitude, 2, 2. Time, 1:50¼, 1:49¾. Second race, trot, purse $500: Capt. Jack, 2, 2, 3; Paragon, 4, 4, 4; Billy, 3, 3, 2; Magua, 1, 1, 1. Time, 1:43¾, 1:47, 1:43¾. To-morrow, the last day, will be unusually fine. Several noted horses are entered for the running race, for a purse of $600.

The Races at Cambridge City, Ind.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, IND., June 12, 1873.

The races to-day were well attended, between five and six thousand people being present. In the 2.50 trot Henry Todd was the favorite from the beginning in the pools, Kate Bennett and Mattera Maid next as second. They got the word about two o'clock. Kate Bennett won the race easily in three straight heats, Henry Todd second, Fashion third, Mattera Maid a bad fourth; time, 2:41¾, 2:37¾, 2:39¾. In the free for all pacers, Copper Bottom won in three straight heats, Hoosier Tom second, Billy Hopper third, Red Tiger distanced in first heat; time, 2:25¾, 2:26, 2:28¾. To-morrow and Saturday will be the big days of the season. The best of order prevails and every one seems well pleased with the result, satisfied that it is fair, square racing and no "set up."

CASUALTIES.

Train Brakeman Run Over and Killed.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

ASHTABULA, OHIO, June 12, 1873.

A son of Conductor Henry McCowens, of Cleveland, aged about eighteen years, employed as brakeman on his father's train, on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, fell between the rear car and the caboose at Madison Station, Lake county, last night, and was run over and instantly killed.

An Engineer Run Over and Killed.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 12.—An engineer of the Jeffersonville, Cincinnati and Louisville Railroad, named George Tracy, while walking on the track near the company's engine house in this city, this morning, was run over and instantly killed by a train backing in the same direction, and which he did not hear until escape was impossible. Tracy was a single man, his mother is a widow and resides in Lafayette, where his remains will be taken.

The Mine Explosion at Shamokin, Pa.—Verdict of the Inquest.

SHAMOKIN, PA., June 12.—The body of Conrad Drumheiser was found early this morning horribly burnt and mangled. The following is the verdict of the Coroner's jury: "Conrad Drumheiser, inside boss, came to his death by the explosion of fire damp, caused by said Conrad Drumheiser, inside boss, having entered a portion of old work with a naked lamp, causing an explosion." The jury unanimously acquit the operator and superintendent.

Funeral of the Late Minister Orr.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The funeral of Governor Orr, to-morrow promises to be one of the most imposing ever witnessed in New York. The procession will be in the following order: Washington Greys; Seventh Regiment; Grand Council of Grand Chapter; Lodges, commencing with the highest number; Dodworth's Band; Knights Templar; Keating's Band; Grand Lodge; hearse, surrounded by a hollow square of Knights Templar; chief mourners; Mayor and Common Council and heads of departments; foreign ministers and consols, Governor and Lieutenant Governor of the State of New York; Governors of States and Territories; officers of the army and navy; officers of the civil service of the United States; Judges of the Supreme Courts; United States; Judges; State and City Courts; members of Congress and Legislature, and citizens. The Governors of Alabama and Georgia and Hon. Mr. Mackey, of South Carolina, have arrived here to attend the funeral.

Rumored Corner in Cotton—Several Failures.

NEW YORK, June 12.—There has been a gradual advance in spot and future delivery cotton in the past few days, with rumors of a corner. Crenshaw & Co., brokers, of Pearl street, this afternoon notified the Cotton Exchange of their inability to meet their contracts. Several other failures on the Bear side are rumored.

The Cholera Abating.

MEMPHIS, June 12.—The excitement in regard to the cholera is abating. A number of timid people have left the city, and an abstenance from stale vegetables has undoubtedly had the tendency to decrease the mortuary reports, as there were only nineteen deaths to-day from all diseases, against twenty-four yesterday.

Bankruptcy Case of Bowles Bros. & Co.

BOSTON, June 12.—In the bankruptcy case of Bowles Bros. & Co., a hearing was had to-day before Judge Lowell, upon the question of the creditors accepting or rejecting the offer made by Nathan Appleton for a compromise. John C. Ropes, counsel of assignee, stated the amount of Mr. Appleton's assets, as computed by him, was less than two hundred thousand dollars. The assignee, Henry J. Stevens, reckons the assets of Bowles Bros & Co., when collected, to be from thirty-five thousand to fifty-five thousand dollars in Boston. A. Van Wagner, of New York, himself a creditor, and counsel for many creditors, objected to the acceptance of the offer. He was willing in his own behalf, and in behalf of the creditors he represented, to accept fifty per cent. outright of their claims. The assignee stated that he presented the offer as it was made by Appleton, and he placed the responsibility of its acceptance or rejection upon the creditors. The offer being opposed by the creditors, and being conditional upon their acceptance, was was not passed upon by the Court. Charles Bowles defended their estate from partial and depreciatory reports, urging its immediate release from law and ruin, and supplementing Appleton's offer with a plan for funding and gradually extinguishing the debts. The firm proposd to call another meeting of the creditors for final action.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Representation in the Legislature—Buckalew Still Harping on His Hobby—Salaries of Convention Officers.

The Constitutional Convention, Wednesday afternoon, discussed at length the section of the article on Legislature increasing the number of members of both Houses. An amendment by Hon. D. N. White, of Allegheny, was finally adopted, providing for the division of the State into fifty Senatorial districts of compact contiguous territory, as equal in population as possible, each district to be entitled to elect one Senator; no county to be divided in the formation of the district unless such county is entitled to two or more members; and no county or city to be entitled to more than one-sixth of the whole number of Senators. The House of Representatives to consist of not less than one hundred and fifty members on a ratio of twenty-five thousand inhabitants to each member; no county to have less than one member; the city of Philadelphia, or any county having an excess of three-fifths of said ratio over one or more ratios, to be entitled to an additional member. Without disposing of the section the committee rose.

Judge Woodward stated that a telegram had been received from Mr. Edgar Cowan, appointed to fill the vacancy occasioned by Mr. F. B. Gowan's resignation, declining the appointment on the ground of professional engagements. On motion, the vacancy was declared to still exist. The delegates at-large, with Mr. Gowan, were empowered to fill it.

Mr. Buckalew, Chairman of the Committee on Elections, reported an article on representation in the Legislature. It provides for the election of Senators from the State at large, one half every second year, each voter to vote for a majority of the members. The House of Representatives is to be constituted as follows: After each United States census, the population to be divided by one hundred and fifty, the quotient to be the representative ratio; each county to have at least one Representative, except the six smallest, which are made into districts; a county with a fraction of three-fifths to have a second member; one with two ratios and four-fifths a third member; larger counties to have a Representative for each ratio. The counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny to be divided into Representative Districts, each of these to elect not less than three nor more than six; the Representative Districts to be made to represent fairly each division of electors as exhibited in the returns of the popular elections. The Secretary of the Commonwealth, Secretary of Internal Affairs and Attorney General are required, after each census, to apportion the Representatives to the several counties according to the Constitution, and the Governor to make proclamation thereof. This report substantially covers the subject under discussion during the day. It was ordered to be printed.

Without action the Convention adjourned.

Upon the assembling of the Convention yesterday forenoon, Judge Woodward reported that the delegates at large selected Hon. John C. Bullitt, of Philadelphia, to fill the vacancy of F. B. Gowen. Mr. Bullitt being present, advanced to the clerk's desk and was sworn in.

Mr. Henry C. Carey, Chairman of the Committee on Industrial, Interests and Labor made a report which was read and ordered to be printed.

The report from the select committee on salaries of clerks and other officers of the Convention came up for consideration.

Mr. Bartholomew, of Schuylkill, moved to amend, leaving the amounts reported for the chief clerk and his assistants, $2,750 each, unchanged, by fixing the salaries of sergeant-at-arms at $1,800, and all other officers at $1,750 each. After considerable discussion the motion was lost. The vote was then taken on the officers separately. The chief clerk and his assistants had their salaries fixed at $2,750 each; the transcribing clerks, ten in number, $2,000 each; sergeant-at-arms, $2,000; assistant sergeant-at-arms, $1,800; doorkeepers, two, $1,800 each, and postmaster and assistant postmaster, $1,800 each.

The Convention took a recess.

United After Twenty Years.

Wm. Jenkins, a colored man—says the Paris Kentuckian—who twenty years ago was sold from Fayette, to labor on a cotton farm in Mississippi, came back the other day in search of his wife and child, from whom he had not heard during his absence. After the war he purchased a small farm and improved it, and began to look about for some one to take care of it for him, when his thoughts went back to Old Kentucky and the wife and child he had left there. Accordingly he wrote several letters to his wife, directing them to the neighborhood he had left. Receiving no response to his letters, he came himself, instituted inquiries, and found she had moved to Paris. He came here, and was directed to her house. She was out at the time, but his daughter, who was an infant of two months when he went away, now a woman of twenty years, instinctively recognized him and asked, "Ain't you my father?" but he failed to recognize his daughter. The mother was sent for, and when she came the meeting is said by those who witnessed it to have been most affecting. After remaining in Paris several days, Jenkins returned to complete some improvements on his estate, when his wife and daughter will join him in his Southern home. Husband and wife had not remarried during their long separation.

A Rich Find in Texas.

The Advance Guard of Decatur, Texas says: Colonel J. W. Booth showed us a good sized nugget and quite a quantity of gold dust found about three miles from Decatur. The man who found it was ignorant as to what it was, and brought it to Colonel Booth, who carried it to Eastern Texas and had it thoroughly tested, when it proved to be the very finest quality of gold. Several old miners have inspected the ground and say that they find plenty of volcanic matter and other indications common to gold regions, but owing to their facilities for careful examination being few, they could not fully determine as to the extent of the gold. discovery proves a rich mine, we anticipate things for Wise county.

Robert Stick was a policeman of Indian[illegible] as he stuck to his house closer than h[illegible] beat, it was deemed advisable to whit[illegible] off the force.

SOMETHING ABOUT CANNED GOODS.

Few of our readers are aware of the immense business done in this city and vicinity in canned fruits and vegetables. It is but a short time since the efforts to preserve perishable articles by hermetically sealing them was crowned with success. Since that time the business has assumed vast proportions, and millions of dollars are now invested in it. Each year adds to the experience of the packers and enables them to produce a more perfect article. When we think of the enormous quantities of delicious fruits and useful vegetables that would go to waste were it not for the canning process, we cannot help but accord to the discoverer of that process a place among those who have conferred a lasting benefit on mankind. So great has the consumption of this class of goods become it is really a controlling interest in the grocery trade. We have one house in our city whose contracts last season for corn alone was for over twelve thousand cases—fully thirty car loads—and this is only one of the many articles in cans that go to make up our daily food. The house we refer to having seen the growing importance of this branch of business, wisely, we think, determined to abandon the general grocery trade and concentrate their energies and capital on the jobbing of canned goods, &c., exclusively. They have had several years experience in this line, are close buyers, and are personally acquainted with many of the most reliable packers in the country. Visiting them at their factories, watching the process of putting up goods, and becoming in this way familiar with the business in all its details. They evince great discrimination in their purchases, and only the most reliable brands, brought from all parts of the country, find a place in their house. There are no sections that produce all kinds of fruits and vegetables equally perfect, some excel in one thing, and some in another. The old saying, "From Maine to California," is, when applied to this house, a true one, for from the former they receive the finest green corn and all kinds of canned fish, and from the latter the most delicious Bartlett pears and apricots. Northern New York furnishes in the greatest perfection white cherries, egg plums and green gages. Maryland and Delaware give us peaches and a variety of small fruits, while to New Jersey we look for tomatoes and other articles to complete the line. With a desire to be in the center of trade the firm we refer to, Jesse H. Lippincott, now occupy the large four story building, No. 231 Liberty street; this is perhaps the best location and most desirable house for their line of business there is in the city. With a front of thirty feet, extending back one hundred and five feet, they have ample room to handle their large and increasing trade. The members of the firm, Mr. Jesse H. Lippincott and Mr. H. H. Vance, have grown up among us and have the confidence of the business community. They need no commendation at our hands. We feel sure they will do their share toward making Pittsburgh a great distributing point.

The time is fast approaching when merchants give their orders for canned goods for fall delivery, and this house is just now completing arrangements which will enable them to do better for their trade than ever before. They will place in the hands of dealers this season for the first time their new brand "Cape May Tomatoes," put up expressly for them by one of the oldest and most reliable packers in New Jersey. On all other goods of this kind, by reason of large purchases, they will be enabled to give very low figures, and we would advise buyers to get their prices before giving their orders for their fall and winter supply.

RAILROAD COLLISION.

The Pittsburgh Express Runs Into a Coal Train.

The Pittsburgh express train west on the Pennsylvania railroad, due in this city at eight o'clock yesterday morning, when near Wall's station met with a serious accident. Just as the train approached the Oak Hill mines the engineer observed a coal train run across the track. He applied the brakes, but was too close to the coal train to prevent a collision, and his train passed through the obstructing "dumpies," knocking them right and left. The engine of the coal train left the track, and rolled down the embankment into Turtle creek, but the engineer and fireman escaped with slight injuries. The express engine was disabled, but no one on the train was injured. The cars all kept the track, and the Cincinnati express coming along soon after, brought them into the city, arriving very little behind the usual time of the latter train.

The Castle Shannon Sale.

Yesterday was just the kind of a day that would influence people to visit the country, and a large number availed themselves of the sale of lots at Castle Shannon for an excursion. This sale was even a greater success than the first one, on last Thursday. There were some sixty lots sold, footing up in the aggregate about $20,000. The ride over the Castle Shannon road was a very pleasant one, and afforded the most complete satisfaction to all who availed themselves of the opportunity to examine the magnificent plan of lots of this company. The location of the property was criticised and pronounced equal to any that had been offered for sale this season. The great feature of the sale was the liberal offers made by the company, and which were fully explained to those who were fortunate enough to be present.

The company will shortly advertise their third sale when another opportunity will be given our citizens to purchase building lots or ready made dwelling houses at auction. Those who have any intention of getting into the country will do well to take advantage of this free ride, and look about the gem of a village which Castle Shannon truly is. With your lot you get a free pass over the road for two years, and for all these advantages you pay ten per cent. down, and the balance in twenty quarterly payments. Until everybody is presented with a clear title to a comfortable house and lot, without so much as "thank you," there will probably be no cheaper way to get a home than is offered by the Castle Shannon Company.

A Will Contested.

Register Gray is engaged in hearing testimony in regard to the validity of the will of the late Josiah Guy, of Findley township. Mr. Guy died in February last, leaving a will in which he bequeathed most of his property to his sons, Josiah W. and William H. Guy, leaving them about two hundred acres of land each, and appointing them as executors. The daughters allege that the father was incompetent to make a will, by reason of old age and feebleness of mind. The names of the contestants are Dr. Alexander G. McCandless and wife, Andrew Burns, a son-in-law of the testator, Jacob Johnson and wife, and Ellen Duncan. The executors are represented by Messrs. W. S. Miller and R. B. Carnahan, and the contestants by Thomas M. Marshall, Esq. Thus far four heirs have been had before the Register. [illegible] proof of the formal execution of the will the [illegible] contestants are now engaged in offering evidence to prove the incompetency of the testator to make a will.

Prime Roasted Coffee.

Dilworth's patent steam polished, Java flavored coffee is certainly the best article in the market. The delicious aroma which ascends from it while being prepared is enough to throw a luxurious eater into ecstacies. It is so neatly put up in packages all ready to be ground that housewives very naturally take to it, as it is a great labor saver. Go to your retail grocer and buy a package, and our word for it you will linger at your cups like birds in autumn. It is the autocrat of the breakfast table.

Prompt Payment of County Taxes Saves Five Per Cent.

Taxpayers having accounts to settle with County Treasurer Kilgore would do well to remember that they can save themselves five per cent. by striking a balance and settling at his office before the 1st of August. On and after that date five per cent. additional will go on, so that it is to the interest of citizens to call at the Court House before that time and satisfy the demands entered against their names upon the books.

Wholesome and Nutritious.

It is impossible to invigorate a feeble and weak organization without the use of wholesome and nutritious food. Pearl Wheat contains these as well as other sanitive properties, and hence its immense popularity among those whose systems are weak and disordered.

TO REGULATE the digestive organs and give tone to the stomach, Pearl Wheat is invaluable. Ask your grocer for it.

Will retain their full strength and aroma for any length of time. The pores of the berry are hermetically sealed immediately after roasting by a process peculiarly their own, and for which they have Letters of Patent. The ingredients used for hermetically sealing also perfectly clarifies or settles the coffee, thus dispensing with the trouble and cost of eggs or other substances for settling. That all other brands of Roasted Coffee lose their strength and flavor must be apparent to every one from the fact that Coffee, when roasted, becomes porus, and unless hermetically sealed, the aroma and strength escapes.

FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1873.

THE number of Postal Cards ordered by Postmasters up to June 10, was 36,000,000, of which, however, only 12,000,000 have been issued. The Postmaster General has compelled the contractor to print the cards on better material than hitherto, and the work of printing them, which has been suspended, will now be actively pushed.

IT is all up with WAITE. He has no chance for the chair of Chief Justice CHASE. The New Hampshire people have presented the name of Judge DOE, of that State, for the vacant place; and DOE having been about the Courts (mainly as plaintiff) for several hundreds of years, ought to know all about the law by this time. The only man that can beat him is RICHARD ROE.

WISE and DONALDSON, the balloonists who want to try to cross to Europe in a balloon from Boston, have been disappointed in their expectations. They asked the Councils of that city to appropriate the sum of $3,000 to pay the expenses of the experiment, but the Councils refused to give the money. We are sorry. It was a small sum to pay for getting rid forever of two useless bummers.

THE experiments made in France show that the waste coal-dust, which accumulates at all coal mines, can be used as fuel. It is mixed with some adhesive substances, pressed in the shape of brick, and in that shape used as fuel on locomotives. In this country we either leave it in the pit, or throw it into the river to be washed away, or make a big pile of it outside of the pit and set fire to it.

WE have heretofore mentioned the export of iron ore from this country to England: and now we have, in a trade report from Wolverhampton, dated May 28, the following:

> The prevailing high prices are bringing about extraordinary results. It transpires on 'Change here this afternoon that a consumer in this district is about to import from America 1,000 tons of strip iron, wholly made in the country, and that the railway axles also made in the United States are selling there at £3 per ton under the quotations of the leading English markets. The iron orders are fast running out here, and there is much underselling. Inferior lots are offered in lots of 200 tons, at £12 10s per ton.

THE BURNHAMS, of this country, who sent an agent to Europe to recover a fortune of twenty-two millions of dollars, left them by an ancestor in 1694, have discovered, through their agent, that they have been grossly imposed upon, their credulity helping the imposition. No money was left them in 1694, and there was not the slightest evidence to be found of any fund accumulating to their credit. Like all the other cases of great fortunes discovered in Europe, the story was manufactured by a speculating lawyer, who hoped to be able to fleece the BURNHAMS by getting them to contribute large sums to send him to England to look after the imaginary fortune.

THE New York Sun, whose sole mission appears to be that of villification, having grown tired of flinging filth at Mrs. GRANT and her children, has now turned to the congenial task of blackening the reputations of the poor women who are struggling to earn an honest living as clerks in the various Departments at Washington. We will not disgrace our columns by repeating its foul language, but content ourselves with denouncing the malicious slanderer as he deserves. It is a wholesale defamation, without a particle of justification. It is characteristic of the Sun, however, and of those papers which follow in its lead. After indulging for years in abuse of Mrs. and Miss GRANT, it is but natural that they should now single out innocent and unprotected women as the next objects of their venom.

THE late judicial election in Cleveland for three Judges of the Superior Court, is a fair illustration of the effect of taking elections out of politics. Both political parties, it is true, met and made party nominations, in this case; but the papers of both parties repudiated this action, the workers in politics dropped the entire affair, refusing to take any part as politicians in the election, and everybody was left to vote as he pleased, and for whom he pleased. The result is that out of 17,000 voters in the city, only 2,650 voted, or about one-seventh of the whole. "The affair," says the Leader, "take it all in all, is a sorry illustration of the folly of attempting non-partisan action, even in judicial elections. The non-partisan character of the contest is largely responsible for the light vote. The party machinery not being in operation on either side, left the voters to stay away or come, as they liked, without outside persuasion or any organized effort to bring them to the polls." The voting at such an election could hardly be called "cumulative," but "minority representation" might be said to have had full swing when 2,650 men elected Judges for the 14,350 voters who stayed away rom the polls.

THE New York Democratic papers (including the Tribune) scoff at Attorney General WILLIAMS for recognizing the Modocs as a nation, with whom the United States was at war. At first sight it does seem a little odd that a mere handful of men should be regarded as possessing a distinct nationality; but the Supreme Court of the United States, beginning with the period of Chief Justice MARSHALL and coming down to the last session of that tribunal, has uniformly held that the Indian tribes in the United States are nations, not "independent" nations, but dependent nations—and that treaties made between them and the United States are the supreme law of the land, as much as if made between this government and Great Britain. Congress, also, has by law directed the President to make a treaty with these Modocs as such nationality, which treaty was made, and has been recognized by Congress as the law of the land; the armed conflict between the United States and the Modocs arose in an attempt to compel the Modocs to obey this treaty, and to go on their reservation, as the treaty provided; and hence we think the law and the facts are all on the side of the Attorney General.

The fact, however, that a great government like ours is tied up by treaty stipulations with this band of cut-throats and robbers, and is
...us placed in the attitude of treating cap-
...urderers as prisoners of war, should entire abrogation of the treaty
...aling with the Indians. They
...corporated with the rest of the the country, and made laws as component
nation. The treaty
...en well enough half a cen-
...ian tribes had the
...inent to roam
...to that there is scarcely a doubt that the proposition would have been overwhelmingly defeated.

"The arguments in favor of the new experiment are generally utterly false, and easily proven so. For instance: it is claimed that the power of the caucus is destroyed by the adoption of minority representation, whereas directly the contrary is the fact. The caucus is made supreme. The contest is transferred from the polls to the nominating conventions. How? In every district where one party has a respectable majority of the voters, the stronger will nominate two candidates, and the weaker one; and all three are sure of election, because the minority plumps on one and the majority divides its vote equally between the two. The election is, therefore, settled when the respective party caucusses adjourn. The result is, if money is spent, it is all concentrated in the caucus; there is no necessity to nominate the best men on the one or the other side, because the Constitution has determined that three candidates—two of one party and one of the other—will surely be elected.

"The 'caucus' argument of Mr. Medill is as good as any of the utterly sophistical reasoning by which this system has been foisted upon Illinois; it proves too much for the system, and quite enough for its overthrow."

JUDICIAL ELECTION IN ILLINOIS.

The late election of Judges in the State of Illinois was marked by certain incidents which render the subject interesting to the entire nation. Indeed, if these incidents had attracted less general attention, or if the concern so widely awakened by them should speedily subside into indifference, either result might be justly regarded as a sign of evil omen for the future of our free institutions. Happily as yet Americans, unmoved by passion, everywhere at once recognize the disaster foreshadowed by the attempt or the tendency to degrade their judiciary. One of the candidates for re-election in Illinois, Judge BOOTH, of Chicago, had given great offense to a portion of the liquor dealers and to some of their patrons, by the decision that active interest in what is called the temperance cause does not disqualify a man for acting as juror in a case under the law relating to the sale of intoxicating drinks. Every man of sense and candor sees that to decide otherwise would be to disfranchise a citizen for his opinions, and in fact, the judgment was accepted as correct by almost the entire bar. At any rate, it was the deliberate, conscientious decision of the functionary learned in the law, to whom the duty of deciding in the premises pertained. But the class to whom the decision seemed objectionable, resolved, merely on the ground of it to prevent Judge BOOTH's re-election, and therefore set up as his competitor, a lawyer of no repute in his profession, whose willingness, if successful, to reverse the act of his predecessor was well understood among his supporters. The proceeding is hardly the less alarming because it proved a failure. ASHTON received a very large vote, and Judge BOOTH was elected only through extraordinary exertions on the part of those who desired to uphold the independence of the Judiciary.

This, however, is not the most discreditable example presented by the Illinois election of popular interference with judicial independence. Judge Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, whose term of office was about to expire, and who was a candidate for re-election, had made himself obnoxious to the farmers by his decision of last year against the constitutionality of the act of the Legislature regulating railway freights. The Judge had not only ruled that a railway charter was really a contract, but that, as the new Constitution of Illinois prohibited only "unjust discrimination" on the part of the railway companies in the imposition of rates of freight, the Legislature could not prohibit all discrimination. This is a very bald statement of the decision, but as set forth and expounded by the Judge, it was accepted as sound law by the entire bar of the State. But this consideration did not satisfy the farmers or reconcile them to the Judge. Though Judge LAWRENCE is universally respected as a worthy man and an able jurist, they, or at least a portion of them, resolved to punish him for his disagreeable decision, and nominated as his competitor a lawyer named CRAIG, whom they had every reason to regard as fully concurring in the correctness of the act of which they complained. Hence their sole object must have been to express their resentment at a magistrate, the recognized interpreter of the Constitution of the State, for differing from themselves in his view of the meaning of the instrument. And they succeeded in their object, as their candidate was elected.

The precedent thus set, if generally followed, would soon destroy our republican system and establish the reign of anarchy. The meaning of the act is neither more nor less than the assertion of a right to decide constitutional and legal questions at the ballot-box instead of on the bench. In the course of the canvass LAWRENCE was denounced as the railroad candidate, and the denouncers declared their desire to have a Judge who should "sympathize" with them. Of course, they meant a Judge who should take their side of the question as against the railroads. It seems hardly credible that men who have grown up under American institutions could talk in this way or could fail to reflect that a Judge who "sympathizes" with either of the parties to a case under trial is disqualified by the feeling for the duties of the position.

However deeply such popular acts as these may be regretted, they by no means justify the conclusions which some of our contemporaries draw from them. Multitudes of people will, occasionally, under the influence of some strange excitement, or common impulse commit acts at variance with sound judgment, but, upon the whole, it is safe to rely upon the prevalence of good sense and average wisdom in the masses. The people are still the source of all power; and are no more likely to go wrong, in the long run, than the appointing power would be, lodged in other hands.

A WRITER in Nature calls attention to one possible source of skin diseases, which he refers to the manufacture of what are called "prime old brown Windsor soaps," and states that this is obtained from old and putrid bones, which are crushed and ground to powder, and exposed to the action of boiling water under pressure until the grease and marrow are extracted. These substances are subjected to various processes, resulting in the preparation of bone glue, isinglass, etc., while the grease itself, which at first is of a dark brown color with an abominable odor, is purified and deodorized, and the more valuable portion converted into hard brown soap, the offensive smell of which is disguised by a strong perfume. The brown color of the grease gives it its acceptable tint without coloring by caramel, the original mode of manufacture. The process causes the production of a large number of minutes spiculæ of bone which cannot be entirely removed, and which tend to penetrate the skin or abrade its surface. The writer attributes to this cause many forms of eczema. The suggestion is worthy of consideration, and the safest plan is always to use white scentless soap, like the white castile.

GEN SCHENCK complains of a rank injustice on the part of the cable and Western Union Telegraph Companies, by which the charge on a cable dispatch from New York to an interior point is about double the ordinary charge, pay being also required for the address and signature, which in this country go free. The two companies work under a contract by which the cable company receives one-third of this inland rate. On a message of one hundred words from London to Washington, it works thus: Besides the dollar per word for cabling, the charge for the land service is three pence a word, or for the one hundred words $6 96; subtracting ten words for the ad-
...signature, the dispatch, if it started from

Under the award of the Geneva Board of Arbitration, England is to pay to the United States $15,500,000 in gold coin. As this amount of the precious metal would weigh twenty-three tons, it is altogether probable that five-twenty bonds to the amount of that sum will be purchased in England with gold furnished by the British government, and sent to the United States treasury for redemption, the coin thus accruing being deliverable in Washington without the risk of transportation across the ocean.

This gives to the short cut twenty-four per cent. of all the tonnage passed at present between India and Europe and America.

Commencement Exercises at Otterbein University—Address of Hon. Schuyler Colfax.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.
BROAD FORD, June 9, 1873.

I am persuaded to send you this brief report of the Commencement exercises at Otterbein University, believing it will be of interest to your readers who are acquainted with the institution, and, perhaps, also to the general reader.

The exercises began on Sunday, June 1, with the Baccalaureate address by President Thompson. I cannot speak of this in other than terms of praise. It was a masterly effort, and well worthy its learned author. Nor do I declare my own opinion only when I thus speak. Such are the sentiments of all who had the pleasure of listening to it.

On Monday evening, June 2d, the ladies held the anniversaries of their literary societies, the Philalethean in the Presbyterian church, and the Cliorhetean in the college chapel. Both were largely attended by interested friends and visitors, and their audience rooms were well filled. Their exercises, consisting of orations, essays, and poems, were a credit to their authors, and did honor to the societies. Otterbein may well feel proud of the enterprise and ability of her ladies.

The following evening the gentlemen's societies held their anniversaries, the Philophronean in the college chapel, and the Philomathean in the Presbyterian church. Both were attended by large and appreciative audiences. The exercises were highly meritorious, showing ability and careful preparation, and evincing that these young men are fully awake to the demand of the times and the superior advantages of literary culture.

The annual address before the students was delivered on Wednesday evening, June 4th, by ex-Vice President Colfax, subject, "The Duties of Life." The address was scholarly, and evinced the intimate acquaintance with literature and science of its author. It was also characterized by a practical spirit, that rendered it eminently calculated to instruct and profit those of a less philosophical turn of mind.

In this address Mr. Colfax showed that, with all his duties in public life, he has yet been able to gather much general and particular knowledge outside their immediate demands, and that although quitting school at the early age of ten, he has yet been able to place himself high as a scholar and a man of literature.

Commencement day came on Thursday, June 5. The class of graduates was small, yet, if we may judge from the manner in which they acquitted themselves on this day, it nevertheless possesses considerable talent, and promises to be an honor to its Alma Mater. The addresses were good, containing much thought, excellently arranged and nicely expressed, at no time ostentatious but always plain and elegant.

Mr. L. L. Hamlin, of Westerville, class of '73 delivered a master oration, or rather partially delivered it, as he was compelled, on account of illness, to leave the stage before completing it. Judging from what we heard of this production, it was well worthy the name master oration.

The address to the graduates by the President was very fine, and contained much practical wisdom and good advice. It was particularly happy in setting forth the superior advantages for doing good their education had given them, what the world would expect of them as educated men and women, and urging upon them to accept their position, go forth in life and meet its responsibilities, and prepare for their next great Commencement day at the assemblage of the nations in presence of the Eternal Judge.

After the address came the presentation of diplomas to the members of the class. Then followed conferring of degrees. The members of the class received the customary titles. The second degree, A. M., was given to S. E. Kemp, Frederic Reible, L. L. Hamlin, A. B. Kosh and E. B. Kepheart. The honorary degree, also, of D. D. was conferred on J. J. Glossbrenner, of Dayton, and LL. D. on Schuyler Colfax, of South Bend. Mr. Colfax being present, was then introduced, and made an eloquent speech of about twenty minutes, at the close of which he sat down amidst loud and continued applause. The benediction was then pronounced by Dr. Davis, of Dayton.

STATE NEWS.

Parties from this county are buying sturgeon by the wagon load in Erie. They are said, when properly cured, to be better than corned beef for summer use. Repulsive as the fish look, when taken out of the water, there is no doubt as to the excellence of "smoked sturgeon," and epicures claim that the fresh fish may be so cooked as to equal the best Mackinaw trout.

A public examination of the pupils of the Philadelphia "Institute for Colored Youth" has just been held and has given honest evidence of the intellectual capacity of the race. It is said that for intelligence and accuracy the classes in Latin, natural and mental philosophy, physiology, chemistry, history, geography, geometry and trigonometry could not be led by those of any other educational institution in Philadelphia. Pupils who could not be suspected of the faintest admixture of white blood were as bright and prompt and intelligent in their demonstrations of abstruse problems in trigonometry or mental arithmetic as their comrades, some of whom represented the extreme opposite type of color.

An enterprising firm in the oil region have secured a contract for putting down some oil wells in Japan, and will take two full rigs and two men to take charge of the business.

The Dispatch says twelve hundred houses will be built this year in Erie, and that one lumber firm alone in that city has orders for lumber for four hundred.

The Waynesburg Fair Association will hold its next exhibition on the 9th, 10th and 11th days of October next.

Mr. J. Barrack, of Philipsburg, was injured internally by falling over a block of ice on Friday, from the effects of which he died. He was seventy-nine years of age.

The Wiley well No. 1, one of the first drilled in the vicinity of Dunkard creek, Greene county, after producing largely for a year or more, caved in and was abandoned. Recently Mr. Wiley had the well cleaned out, and it is now producing over twenty barrels of oil per day.

Nathaniel Hamilton, of Pottstown, was run over by the cars at that place on Tuesday, while intoxicated, and was fatally injured.

The grand jury of Clearfield county recommends the purchase of all toll bridges by the county, and that all bridges hereafter built should be of iron.

Simon Owen, a young man, was found dead in his bed, two miles from Clearfield, on Sunday morning last. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause.

The corner stone of the proposed new Methodist Episcopal church at Woodlawn, Clearfield county, will be laid this afternoon.

The Odd Fellows of Johnstown have resolved to purchase ground and erect a hall in that city.

The Kittanning Free Press says: A fatal runaway accident occurred near Elderton on Sabbath last. It appears that Mr. Moses Woods, his wife, a Miss Martin, and a young man named Russell, were in a two-horse spring wagon on their way to church, when the horses took fright and ran away. The vehicle partly overturning on the road, Mr. Woods, Mrs. Woods and Miss Martin were thrown violently to the ground. Mrs. Woods, striking a fence in her fall, had her neck broken, and was killed instantly, and Miss Woods and Mr Martin were so badly injured that it is thought they cannot recover. The sad accident has cast a deep gloom over the neighborhood in which it happened, and great sympathy is felt for the family of the deceased, and for those injured.

The York Gazette says: George W. Noedel, Esq., has left on exhibition at our office several specimens of gold and silver taken from his farm in North Codorus township, York county. Mr. Noedel says specimens of the ore have been examined by experts and pronounced rich in the precious metals. He is making preparations to ascertain the extent of the deposit more fully, and so soon as his machinery is put in place will proceed vigorously to develop it.

Clara Wingert, of Harrisburg, aged seventeen, attempted to commit suicide on Tuesday, by jumping into the creek, but a meddlesome young blacksmith jumped in after and pulled her out. Disappointment in a love affair is said to have been the cause.

Foreign Endorsement of the Standard Tonic of America.

There seems to be no limit to the celebrity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Every year the demand for it increases and the territorial area of its popularity expands. It has long been the standard tonic, and an approved remedy for epidemic disease in the Republics of South and Central America, in Brazil and the West Indies and the British Colonies on this continent. More recently its merits have been appreciated at the antipodes, and it is now shipped in large quantities to Australia and Tasmania. The reason why it is making such extraordinary headway in remote regions as well as in America, are very simple and lie in a nutshell. It is a medicine
...to all peoples, all climates and all ordinary
...nd disabilities. It prevents and cures
...ases, relieves indigestion, braces the
...he appetite, clears the brain, reg-
...mittent fever, strength-

PEARL WHEAT IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST
Delicious, Wholesome and Nourishing
Preparation of nature's great food ever produced. Essentially nothing but the woody fibre and a portion of the water are removed by the process, leaving all the starch, gluten and the greatest part of the mineral substances (phosphates), all that is nourishing in the wheat. The removal of the woody fibre makes it far more palatable than the various preparations of wheat now in the market. No other articles of food contain such proper proportions of the requirements of the whole human system. To those suffering from INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, and to persons of sedentary habits, it will prove invaluable. As a BREAKFAST DISH it is unequaled. Our best physicians now say it is of more importance than anything else that can be found. Try it once and you will never be without it. Ask your Grocer or Druggist for a Package. Manufactured only by the

FINANCE AND TRADE.

THURSDAY EVENING, June 12, 1873.

The money market of Pittsburgh is undergoing a process of quiet accumulation, and the funds of capitalists, outside the banks, which were placed during the spring at high rates, are finding their way home and the owners are looking for employment for their surplus. We hear of some good paper being offered in the market, which was withdrawn at 100 per cent. bid for it, the holders preferring to wait the course of events, when the fund holders will be soliciting investments instead of being importuned by borrowers.

Good manufacturing paper given in legitimate trade can be placed at 9 per cent.

Eastern exchange is improving, although the banks are not disposed to let it go to each other at par.

The stock market evinces a bearish feeling, in the face of easy money. As a rule, it has been customary to look for a bearish sentiment, chiefly when money is difficult of access and holders of stocks unable to procure money to keep up their margins, or when the earnings of the leading railroads show a diminution from month to month. Yet now money is accumulating till the interest rate has dropped to five per cent., the railroads are reporting fair earnings, yet prices of securities are much lower than a year ago, the market daily settles to lower rates on small transactions, and operators are looking for a still further decline. It but confirms our oft repeated remark that there is no logic in stock markets.

—The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular advising all persons holding copper-bronze or copper-nickel coins, heretofore authorized by law, that they can exchange them for minor coins, namely: five, three and one cent pieces, authorized by the act of February, 1873, by presenting or forwarding them to the Philadelphia Mint, in sums not less than twenty dollars, or a multiple thereof, properly assorted by denominations, and advising the Superintendent of the amount and kind of coin desired in return. Persons desiring the redemption of any of the minor coins may forward them to the mint and receive a check therefore, or may present or forward them to the office of the Treasurer, some Assistant Treasurer, or designated depositary of the United States, in assorted quantities, advising the officer to whom sent of the amount and kind of coin forwarded, and the amount and kind of lawful money desired in return.

—In reply to an inquiry whether a National bank can count as among its legal reserve fractional currency and nickel coins, and whether they are a legal tender, we would say that we published a letter from the Comptroller of the Currency in this column about a year ago, answering the first question in the negative, which gave as a reason that "neither debased coins, nor fractional currency, is a legal tender"—thus answering our inquirer's second question. The law has undergone numerous changes in this respect. During the last two or three years the five-cent nickel was a legal tender for one dollar, the three-cent nickel for thirty cents, and the one and two-cent piece for only four cents. On the 12th of February last all former acts were repealed and a new provision made the five cent, three cent, and one cent pieces, of copper and nickel, a legal tender, not to exceed twenty-five cents in any one payment. By mixing these in due proportion any part of one dollar can be reached, but the limit is altogether too narrow for convenience. The fractional paper currency is not a legal tender.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
THURSDAY, June 12, 1873.

REMARKS.—With the exception of the uncertain state of the grain market the general characteristics of trade show little or no fluctuations.

There have been some decided changes in the prices of wool, copper, tin plate and dry goods, but with these exceptions the market rules uniform.

The grain market is in a decidedly mixed state at present. The stocks on hand are large with more sellers than buyers, particularly for wheat. This being the state of affairs we do not attempt to give quotations, and for this time are content to state that the grain market is in a demoralized condition, with prices lower and tending toward still more reduced figures.

There is an active demand for city-cured meats. Dealers seem well satisfied with the situation, and report sales at quotations.

Groceries are reported moderately active for the season. This is particularly true of sugars and coffees.

Butter seems to be looking up and prices rule stronger. The receipts are still in excess of the demand, and prices, though weak, are not quotably higher.

The vegetable market is most abundantly supplied with all seasonable articles, and prices are not ruinously high.

Below we give the receipts of the leading articles of produce by rail and river since our last issue:

Flour, barrels	878	Apples, barrels	102
Cheese, boxes	141	Corn, sacks	344
Wheat sacks	1,700	Rye, sacks	193
Oats, sacks	2,295	Butter, pkgs	76

We omit extended quotations to-day.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
FRIDAY, June 13, 1873.

REMARKS.—The market since our last has undergone no quotable change. Dullness was the ruling feature of the trade. Buyers were indifferent about purchasing. The result was there were scarcely any operations.

CRUDE.

Although the market was very dull prices are not quoted lower, viz: 6@6⅛c for spot. Parker's is quoted at $2 25@2 30, with sales of 2,500 bbls at the latter figure. For prices in other parts of the oil regions, see dispatches.

REFINED.

The market was not an active one. Prices are unsettled, standard brands being offered at 16@16¼c. Philadelphia delivery 19¼@19½c.

[By Western Union Line.]

TITUSVILLE, June 12.—The Herald says: The petroleum markets were weaker throughout the region. On upper road the market opened at $2 52½, and gradually declined during the day to $2 45, which was the closing figures. At Oil City the market closed at $2 40 bid, and $2 45 asked. The market at Parker's was quoted at $2 30. At Tidioute the market was unchanged, closing at $2 25. The home refined market was quoted at 10½c in bulk and 15½c in bbls. Sales:

1,000 bbls upper road, spot	$2 52½
1,000 bbls upper road, spot	2 50
1,500 bbls upper road, spot	2 47½
3,500 bbls upper road, spot	2 45
1,000 bbls regular, upper road	2 52½
1,500 bbls Oil City, spot	2 45
2,000 bbls Parker's, spot	2 30
150 bbls Tidioute, spot	2 25

IRON MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

June 11.—Scotch pig is without change of note; the market has the downward tendency previously noted, and the low prices that are ruling at present have caused some speculative inquiry, but at the close the market shows no improvement from previous reports; the sales comprise 630 tons Monkland and Eglinton from dock, 200 do of which were resold; and 100 do Glengarnock, on terms not made public, but at less than our quotations; we quote lots ex ship $46 for Eglinton and $47 for Glengarnock, and from yard an advance of $1a2 on these figures is asked. American pig is quiet but steady; most of the outside lots of No 1 brands offering have been disposed of, and there is little or none now to be had below the companies' prices; in the Lehigh districts there is a scarcity of No 1 brands, and a number of the furnaces are still behind in their deliveries. Though there is less iron offering from outside parties, yet the market cannot be quoted any firmer; we quote No 1, $37a50, and No 2, which is more plenty, $44a47; we note sales of 300 tons outside lots Lehigh brands at $47a48; and one furnace has contracted for 20,000 tons No 2 and No 3 X, for delivery during the remainder of the year, the terms of which were withheld; 100 do. No. 1 Hudson, $48; and 100 do. No. 1 Crane, at a private price. In new rails, we hear of nothing doing; old also are quiet; 500 tons D. H. at Baltimore sold at $52 cash. Scrap is entirely nominal; 300 tons No. 1, for shipment East, sold on terms not made public. Refined bar from store continues languid, even at some concession from present quotations. English cannot now be imported at the home quotations, and unless there should be a very large decline in England, say about 33½ per cent., which does not seem at all probable, it is doubtful if any more orders will go out from this country this year.—Shipping List.

NEW YORK HOP MARKET.

June 11.—The market remains very quiet, the business being confined to small lots for immediate use, at our quoted rates; prime grades are scarce, and held with more firmness. The receipts since 1st September have been 22,645 bales, against 27,098 bales same time last season, and 53,962 bales the season before; and the imports of foreign since 1st September have been 20,081 bales.

Cattle.

The receipts of cattle for the week ending to-day, as will be seen by the report above, have been heavy. The quality of the stock fair, fully up to the runs of the last few weeks.

Trade opened with about the usual attendance of buyers from the regular markets, such as New York and Philadelphia, while from the country there were a large number of transient buyers. Early in the week the sales were principally to country dealers, and small cattle, weighing in the neighborhood of 1,000 to 1,100 lbs. found ready sale at prices at least ¼c higher than ruled last week. The market has ruled active and firm and from the opening showed an upward tendency. Yesterday trade was very active, and by night there was not a load of good shipping cattle remaining unsold. The majority of the cattle on sale this week were from Chicago, and as above noted, were of a fair quality. At the present time there is very little stock coming from Ohio, but dealers look for arrivals soon of cattle from there, and also a big run of Texas and other stock from Kansas via. St. Louis and Chicago. To-day the receipts have been fair, but trade is not so active. A heavy run of stock is reported at Chicago, and buyers are offish and want to force prices down. However there is no glut of cattle here, and the indications are that while trade may not be so active, prices will suffer no material decline.

Stockers.

The run of stockers this week is light. The demand is not so good as it was some time ago, and sales are made slowly. Prices remain unchanged and with few cattle offering, will not get lower for some time.

PRICES.

Extra, 1,400 to 1,500 lbs, steers, fine and smooth, $6 75; extra 1,300 lbs steers do, $6 50; prime 1,200 lbs steers, $6 25a6 40; prime 1,100 lbs, $5 90a6 00; fair 1,000 lbs $5 50 a5 75; bulls, $3 00a4 25; stockers $5 00 a5 50.

Hogs.

The run of hogs during the past week been heavy and in quality are not considered good, being composed principally of heavy course stock. The Philadelphia buyers want a good grade of hogs, and as that kind is a little scarce at present, a bunch of choice sells for better prices relatively than common grades. The demand is considerably short of the supply and receipts are accumulating in the pens fast. This morning the pens are full of unsold hogs, and with a bad feeling ruling, and buyers taking but few, the outlook is anything but promising. It is probable that a good many hogs will have to be shipped out in first hands this week. There is a good many contracted hogs on the market at present, and as soon as they run out, dealers say there will be a better trade. On the whole the market is bad and unsatisfactory, too many hogs on sale and low prices the consequence. Following are the rates current:

Extra Philadelphia $4 90; prime $4 70 to $4 85; Yorkers $4 15 to $4 40.

Sheep.

The run of sheep for the week was heavy and particularly so for the last two days. The quality of the stock can be called fair, although a good many common sheep are running in at present, still among such large receipts buyers succeed in getting all the choice stock wanted. The market has ruled active all week until yesterday noon, when under the influence of a continued heavy run and unfavorable advices trade become slow and closed dull at prices a shade lower than they had heretofore ruled. Last evening there were in the pens unsold thirty-four cars or six thousand eight hundred sheep, and since then the receipts have been swelled considerably. This morning trade is bad, buyers are holding off and refuse to purchase unless at concessions of from ⅛c to ¼c. At the time we left the yards very few sheep were selling and some holders declared before they would take the prices offered they would ship East. Following are the rates current:

Extra, 100 lbs, fine wool, $5 50; prime, 95 lbs, fine wool, $5 25 to $5 40; prime, 90 lbs, fine wool, $5 00 to $5 25; prime, 85 lbs, fine wool, $4 75 to $5 00.

WOOL MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

June 11.—We have no material change to note in the situation; the market continues steady under a moderate demand, and prices are considered quite firm. Owing to advices from California, stating that new wool was selling readily at from 20 to 23 cents, prices here may be called a trifle higher, some dealers asking as high as 32 cents for prime lots, while sales have been reported at Boston at 3 cents in advance on that figure. There have been several small lots of new Ohio fleece received, but other kinds are still behind hand. Advices from Dublin, dated May 29, says: "Our market presented an unusually animated appearance today, in consequence of the large number of English staplers who were in attendance. The supply of wool was tolerably large; buyers showed more disposition to operate, and we quote an advance of a farthing to halfpenny on last week's prices. Scarcely one of the large clips have been put upon the market yet, and many of them are still unborn." The sales here comprise 35,000 lbs Montevideo at 33½c; 6,000 lbs Oregon, 37½c; 3,000 lbs X and super pulled, 37½a44c; 22,000 lbs Colorado, 21a23c; 12,000 lbs fall California, 20c; 2,000 lbs new clip X Ohio fleece, 50c; 10,000 lbs old do., and State, 40a54c; 1,000 lbs new do., 45c; 3,000 lbs tub-washed 52½c.—Shipping List.

Wool Items.

The Washington, Pa., Reporter, says: Now that corn planting is finished, our farmers are busy shearing sheep. The clip will be a large one and the quotations are anxiously scanned. We have heard of no sales, and the figures talked of range from forty-three to fifty cents per pound. A large sale of last year's clip is reported as having taken place in Greene county last week at the former rate. This is not up to the hopes and expectations of the producers, but buyers seem unwilling to do better at this time.

James C. Hawkins, of East Bethlehem, has sold 30,000 lbs, of last year's clip, to Messrs. Abbot & Co., of Boston, at 45c. We hear of another sale at 41c, and this is about the rate the market will open at.

The southwestern counties of the State made the following exhibit three years ago in the production of wool: Washington county, 1,862,752 lbs; Greene, 444,489 lbs; Fayette, 287,752 lbs.

STOCK EXCHANGE.

Stocks opened strong and higher on the entire list under favorable advices from London, and the efforts of the Board to cover the large short sales recently put out, occasioned an advance of ⅛a2 per cent. The greatest rise being on Western Union, Wabash, St. Paul, and Ohio's. Subsequently the market weakened and prices fell off, and in the afternoon the market was quite dull. Pacific Mail was the weak spot, selling as low as 39⅛, against 40⅜ in the morning, it being rumored that the company is about to issue bonds. Western Union was bought by the Smith party up to the close at 84⅛, and the rest of the market, except Pacific, was generally strong. The following were the chief fluctuations of the day: Western Union, 82⅞, 84⅛, 83⅞ and 84⅛; Lake Shore, 91 and 92⅛; St. Paul, 51⅛, 50⅞, 51⅜, 50⅜ and 51; New York Central, 100⅞, 101⅛ and 101⅛; Pacific Mail, 40⅜, 40⅜ and 39⅛; Rock Island, 108⅜ and 109; Ohios, 37⅜ and 38⅛; Wabash, 65⅜ and 66⅜; Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central, 27⅜ and 28⅜; Union Pacific, 27⅞, 28 and 27⅞; Harlem, 129⅞, 130 and 129⅜. The Treasurer of the New York Central gives notice that proposals will be received for $2,000,000 first mortgage bonds till July 2d, being part of its consolidated mortgage of $40,000,000.

MONONGAHELA—Four feet eight inches and rising.

Boats Departing this Day.

Geneva mail packets		8 A. M. and 5 P. M.
Wheeling	Mallie Ragon	Williamson, 1 P. M.

THE marks last evening indicated four feet eight inches and rising, the rise being from the Allegheny. The weather was pleasant.

THE Mollie Ebert, en route from St. Louis, has for Pittsburgh 200 tons ore and 200 tons pig iron.

THE new and handsome mountain steamer Josephine, Captain J. Todd, takes her departure for St. Louis and Missouri river on Saturday positively.

ST. LOUIS.—The Republican says: The rise in the river has stopped one gang of men from work at the ore pile, but the other two gangs are still at work and loading two of W. H. Brown's barges.

THE rise in the river will enable the new steamer Josephine, Capt. Todd, to take out a full load for St. Louis and the Missouri river. So hurry down the freight, as the Josephine will take her departure on Saturday.

THE punctual packet Mallie Ragon, Capt. Williamson, takes her departure this day, 1 P. M., for Wheeling and intermediate ports. The first clerk is Mr. A. W. Vorghtly, who will see that passengers have the best of attention.

THE negro laborers at Memphis wanted 15 cents a bar to discharge the Ames' 1,117 bars of railroad iron, at that point. Captain Jacobs put his own crew to work and paid them 10 cents a bar besides the regular wages.

A VERY heavy rain, continuing during the night, commenced in St. Louis Monday evening. Several houses were struck by lightning, and the flood dam aged sewers, cellars, &c., and leaving four or five feet of water in the Washington avenue tunnel.

THE fine packet Granite State, Captain W. H. Kerr, takes her departure from Bellair, this day, on the arrival of the 1:28 P. M. train, from this city. The Granite State is an A No 1 boat in every respect, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

SALE POSTPONED.—The towboats J. Sharp McDonald, Charley McDonald and Oil Valley, were not disposed of yesterday, the sales being adjourned over until to-day. The Charley McDonald until July 5th. The other two will be offered on Saturday next, provided an arrangement is not made in the meantime.

[From the Sioux City Journal, 6th.]

The river has commenced falling, and went down about four inches yesterday. A dispatch received from Captain Coulson yesterday stated that the Peninah would leave Yankton for Benton on the 12th inst. Colonel Foster has ordered the Far West to Stevenson.

THE Victory, after safely delivering her tow of 50,000 bushels of Pittsburgh coal at Galena and Dubuque, has laid up at La Crosse to repair her damages by the late storm, which will amount to about $1,000, and consists of a new pilot-house, new skylight and pair of new chimneys, besides other little necessary repairs.

THE Evansville Journal says: Captain James S. Routh, contractor on the wing dam in course of construction just above this city, has been awarded the contract for building a similar dam at Henderson Island. Another party under bid him five cents per perch on the French Island dam. Captain Routh was in the city Saturday, and expects to resume work on the dam here in a few days.

IN the United States District Court, New Orleans, Friday, the case of Sarah C. Shirley, et al. vs. the steamer Richmond, the court overruled the exception taken in the case, and gave judgment in favor of the steamer Richmond for the sum of nine thousand dollars and costs, and against Mrs. Sarah C. Shirley, R. T. Fuller, and Mrs. A. B. Silby, late owners of the steamer Sabine.

THE United States Mail Packets on the slackwater arrive and depart on time. The low water has so far had no effect on them. These boats are side-wheelers, were built expressly for the trade and are A No. 1 in every respect. They depart strictly on time, 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. If you want any further information just call on Captain A. S. Carlile, on the wharfboat. What he don't know about the Brownsville trade is not worth inquiring about.

THE Memphis Avalanche says: They now try to make out that Leathers is still willing to run the Natchez against the Lee, provided enough money can be made to pay the trip expenses, and that Leathers' only reason for backing out was because he failed to see enough in sight to pay him to run. Old Tom is a blowhard from Blowville, and were Captain Bobadil still about he could lay that bragging worthy square in the shade on a straight stretch any time. Capt. Leathers didn't think about the heavy expenses when he started the talk about making a quick run. After working the public mind up pretty strong he began to study about how much it would cost. Then, doubtless, he thought how it would be if he should lose, and then he backed water. He should now subside and be heard no more.

ST. LOUIS Tuesday's Globe says: The river is rising rapidly from the Upper Mississippi. At seven o'clock P. M. it had risen nine inches since last report; we do not anticipate a rise of any magnitude however. At two o'clock A. M. yesterday, we had a severe rain, accompanied with heavy thunder and vivid lightning. The rain continued until six A. M.; from that time till 5:30 P. M., it was warm and cloudy. At that time commenced the heaviest rain storm we have had this season. The "live lightning" did not "leap from crag to crag," but seemed to leap from steeple to steeple, with the most terrific crashes of thunder, which lasted for full one hour, and there is good prospect for a "wild night," as our Hibernian friend would say.

THE Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says: A letter receiver from diver John L. Gwyre at the wreck of the T. H. Allen, in White river, brings the gratifying intelligence that only two men were injured at the premature explosion of the torpedoes, which had been reported to have injured so many and raised cain generally. Gwyre's face was blackened a little with powder, and Smith's arm was hurt slightly. By the way, the torpedo was made of powder, and not nitro-glycerine. Diver Gwyre and the crew at the wreck belong to the Eckert, and I do not think any of her crew could be hired to touch a nitro-glycerine with a ten foot pole. Walker & Nellis, of this city, are building six coal flats for the St. Bernard Coal Company, at Memphis. They are also repairing the West Wind, and will have her ready for work by the middle of the week. Brown & Jones are about completing a contract with Walker & Nellis for the hull of a tug for the machinery of the Mignonette probably. Capt. Sam Orr has purchased the saw mill located in the upper part of the city, known as the Walnut Mill, and will proceed to earn a reputation as a sawist. From the command of the steamer Shamrock to the management of a saw mill may be termed progression by easy stages.

THE following is a memoranda of the steamer Far West, kindly furnished by the Clerk, Barney Earler Tuesday, May 27—Left Fort Benton at daylight; lay at port, Nellie Peck; lay all night at old Fort Hawley; wind blowing all day. Wednesday, May 28—Wind still blowing; laid up at 2:30 P. M. below Round Butte, wind bound. Thursday, May 29—Wind blowing a hurricane; lay all night above Spread Eagle bar. Friday, May 30—Met Esperanza at Hardscrabble; laid up [illegible] P. M., wind bound. Saturday, May 31—Landed at Buford at 5:30 A. M.; met E. H. Durfee fifty miles below Buford; met Mollie Moore above Little Missouri; lay all night below Papsiman's wood yard. Sunday, June 1—Heavy fog this morning; passed Berthold at 7 A. M.; Fort Stevenson at 8:30 A. M.; met Katie P. Kountz twenty miles above Fort Rice; lay all night at Fort Rice. Monday, June 2—Steamer Miner lying opposite Grand river; Silver Lake lying at Grand river; met Western at 1 P. M. at Swan Lake; lay all night opposite Fort Sully and cleaned boilers. Tuesday, June 3—Met Desmet at 8 A. M. at [illegible]pelle creek; Key West at 10 A. M., at head of [illegible]; May Lowry, laid up at White river; laid all night at Whetstone Agency. Wednesday, June 4—Met Hiram Wood at Chouteau creek; Peninah, above Niobrara river; arrived at Yankton at 11:30 A. M.

The Government Crisis in Spain—New Ministry Agreed Upon.

LONDON, June 12.—A special from Madrid reports that the crisis in the government of Spain continues, and fears are entertained of a serious outbreak. The Cortes remained in secret session most of yesterday, and during its deliberation armed volunteers surrounded the palace. A large body of police was concentrated at the column of the Dos de Mayo, and troops were posted at the other palaces in the city. The irreconcilable press openly advocates revolution. The situation is very disquieting.

A Madrid dispatch of last evening says the Irreconcilables are opposed to the formation of a ministry from the Right. Armed Irreconcilables and partisans and a majority of the Cortes respectively occupy the strategic positions in the city, and a conflict is feared. At a meeting of the Deputies belonging to the majority it was agreed, in order to conciliate the opponents, to propose a Ministry to be composed of four Conservatives and four Irreconcilables.

MADRID, June 12.—The Cortes has accepted the resignation of the Figueras Cabinet, and at a meeting of the majority last night the following ministry was agreed upon: President of Council and Minister of the Interior, Senor Margill; Minister of Colonies, Senor Sorin; Foreign Affairs, Muzo; War, Estavans; Marine, Aurich; Finance, Ladus; Public Works, Sunot; Justice, Gonzales. The authorities are determined resolutely to sustain the majority in whatever measures they may adopt. Figueras has left Madrid.

LATER.—The excitement which prevailed in Madrid the past few days has greatly subsided and the city has been quiet and calm to-day. The armed factions which were posted at different points, have been withdrawn, all parties having accepted the Ministry formed by the majority of the Cortes last night. Senor Figueras has arrived at Huezca. He is going to France.

A regiment of troops stationed at the town of Muriedro, fourteen miles from the city of Valencia, mutinied yesterday and murdered the Lieutenant-Colonel.

The War in Khiva.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 12.—A rumor is current that the Khivan expeditionary column, under General Kauffman, has met with a reverse.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 12.—The columns of the expedition against Khiva, which started from Djisak and Kasalivsk, effected a junction at Chalaot, on the 14th of April. On the 27th of April a Khivan force attacked the Russian vanguard near Chalaot, and a sharp engagement took place, during which two Russian colonels were killed. The Khivans were finally defeated and retreated precipitately.

Later dispatches from Central Asia received in this city to-night state that the vanguard of the force marching against Khiva from the East, under command of General Kauffman, reached the Amur Daria river on the 11th of May, where it met and put to flight a body of 3,500 Khivans without the loss of a single man on the part of the Russians. After waiting until the 14th ult., by which time the remainder of his force came up, General Kauffman continued his march toward Schuwkhane.

Germanizing Alsace and Lorraine.

BERLIN, June 12.—It is probable Parliament will adopt a resolution extending the provisions of the constitution of Germany to Alsace and Lorraine. Should this measure be carried out Alsace and Lorraine will be entitled to elect fifteen members of Parliament. None of the inhabitants who chose French nationality will be allowed to vote until they have sworn allegiance to Germany.

Threatened Trade Lock Out in London.

LONDON, June 12.—There is a serious dispute in the building trade of this city. The journeymen ask an advance of wages of half penny per hour, which the master builders refuse to give. It is feared the dispute will lead to the greatest lock out ever known in the city.

The ex-Empress Eugenie has taken her departure from England for the continent, by way of Ostend.

Party Government in France a Mistake.

PARIS, June 12.—Ex-President Thiers has written a letter to a friend, in which he says he has retired to private life, believing that party government in France is a mistake, and will only lead to fresh divisions.

Miscellaneous Dispatches.

LONDON, June 12.—It is reported that a treaty of alliance between Germany and Italy has been concluded.

BERLIN, June 12.—Herr Kurd Von Schlescer, German Minister at Washington, has arrived in this city. It is not likely that he will return to the United States. Herr Von Krause, at present attached to the German Legation in London, is to be sent to Washington as Charge d' Affaires.

MADRID, June 12.—General Hidalgo has been appointed Civic Governor of Madrid.

LONDON, June 12.—The race for the gold cup took place to-day on Ascot Heath and was won by Cremorne, Flageolet second and Revigny third. Betting just before the start was even on Cremorne against field, five to one against Flageolet and five to one against Revigny; seven ran.

PARIS, June 12.—Gen. L'Admirault has applied to the Assembly for authority to prosecute Communist Rane, now a member of that body.

Marine News.

LONDON, June 12.—The steamship City of Limerick, from New York, has arrived.

Breadstuffs dull. All other articles unchanged.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

Management of the Atlantic and Great Western.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

MEADVILLE, PA., June 12, 1873.

Mr. J. H. Deveraux, recently appointed general manager of the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad Company, came here to-day and took charge of its affairs, and relieved Mr. James B. Hodgskin, Vice President and Treasurer, who was temporarily placed in charge of the road, which position he has filled in a very able and satisfactory manner. Mr. Hodgskin will return to New York, where his services are required in the general offices of the company.

St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Railroad to be Investigated.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—The Evening Dispatch learns that several prominent members of the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Railroad, residing in New York and this city, have determined to investigate the affairs of that road, and that a petition will soon be filed in the Circuit Court here as a preliminary step. Some of the matters treated in the petition are said to be the sale of the bonds and the appropriation of the proceeds, consolidation by the Directors alone, the means by which the State lien was acquired, and how far the Directors of a railroad corporation can dispose of the company's real property without the sanction of the stockholders.

An Injunction to be Applied For.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company will to-morrow apply to Judge Dillon, now holding United States Circuit Court at Davenport, Iowa, for an injunction to restrain Governor Woodson, of this State, from advertising the Missouri Pacific Railroad for sale to satisfy a State lien on the road for some eight millions of dollars. The application is peculiar, inasmuch as it asks a United States Court to restrain an Executive of a State from carrying out an act of the Legislature. Attorney General Ewing and F. J. Bounnan, associate counsel, left for Davenport to-night, to represent the State.

Ohio Valley Editorial Convention.

CIRCLEVILLE, O., June 12.—The Ohio Valley Editorial Convention assembled in this city to-day. The following officers were elected: President, William Milliken, of Washington; Vice President, E. R. Haldeman, Marietta; Secretary, H. C. Drinkle, Lancaster. Resolutions of respect relative to the death of J. R. S. Bond, of Chillicothe, were adopted. Resolutions were also adopted determining not to abate the price of postage from the subscription price of newspapers, and asking Congress to amend the postal law so as to provide a sliding scale of postage for newspapers published in and out of counties and States, and providing that all newspapers carried by express companies shall pay postage rates. A banquet was held this evening.

Chicago Streets.

The Danbury man has been to the West. He writes that Chicago is on a prairie, and consequently the streets are a dead level, and straight as an arrow. Its newspapers are widely known, and several of them have grand offices. When a New York paper puts up a fine office, it announces it repeatedly before the plans are drawn, and other papers speak of it, and then a magazine article is made up about it, and the country generally is stirred up and made miserable on account of it. The Chicago newspaper men don't do so. They don't say anything about it until their buildings is done and occupied, and yet with a single exception, they have finer offices than their New York contemporaries.

A hitching post is a rarity here. When an Eastern man comes across a hitching post here he sits down and cries. They fasten horses by a strap to an iron weight, which is left on the walk. These weights occupy a prominent position in a runaway. When a Chicago man sees a runaway horse coming along his street he don't stop to inquire whether it was the result of carelessness or accident. He merely says, "Heaven protect us!" and crawls under a stoop.

"They Say."

"They say" often tells that which is not true. He is about the worst authority you can produce to support the credibility of your statement. Scarcely ever is a suspicious report put in circulation, but this Mr. "They Say" is the author of it; and he always escapes responsibility and detection, because living nowhere, he cannot be found. Who said that Mr. ——, the merchant, was in a failing condition? Why "They Say" so. On what authority do you affirm that neighbor J. has been in bad company? Why "They Say" so. Is it a fact that Miss V. is not so circumspect as she should be? Why, "They Say" so. Have nothing to do with that Mr. "They Say;" he is a half-brother to Mr. Nobody, who always does all the mischief, and lives nowhere but in the inventive brain of those who, undeserving respect themselves, are desirous to pull down to their own level. We always suspect the truth of a report which comes from the authority of "They Say."

The Warm Spring Indians.

These Indians, who have played so important a part in the Modoc war, are seventy-five in number, composed of fifty Warm Spring warriors, twenty-three Wascopums, one Walla-Walla, and one Unatilla. They are under the command of Donald McKay, the son of a well-known Scotch fur trader by his Indian wife. He is six feet high and well proportioned, and is intelligent, companionable and of a cool disposition. He speaks seven different Indian dialects, thoroughly understands the Indian character, and is a successful leader. This band resides in the Warm Springs reservation, which lies on the eastern base of the Cascade mountains, with Mount Hood as the northern, and Mount Jefferson as the southern corner post. It is bounded on the north by the Mutton mountains, about fifty miles south of the Columbia river, and east by the Eschutes river. In this reservation there is a large hot spring which bubbles up at the foot of the wall of a deep canon, through which the Warm Spring river, a turbulent mountain stream, flows. This hot spring furnishes a volume of water that fills a canal four feet deep and twelve feet wide. The water is impregnated with sulphur and is effective in curing rheumatism and cutaneous diseases. The Indians have their settlement near the Springs, although the United States Agency is ten miles south of this spot.

In the Indian wars of 1855 and 1856 the Warm Spring band was among the hostile tribes, but being conquered, they made peace, and since that time have remained faithful to their engagements. During the war with the Snake Indians, General Crook used a company of them as scouts and fighters. The band is accompanied by two Christian missionaries, who every Sunday hold religious services, attended by most of the Indians, though some still adhere to the "Smoholla" faith. This system of religion was made up by Smoholla from what he could learn on the subject from the Catholic and Protestant missionaries and from the Hudson's Bay Company. From this combination he developed a religion suited, as he thought, to his race, and he became a prophet and a dreamer. About ten years ago, Qui-premah was the leading prophet, and used to dream that the time was soon coming when the white men would die off and leave their good things, including whisky, to the red men, who would then resume their ancient sway. The doctrines are Epicurean and consist of a belief in enjoying the pleasures of this world and afterwards repossessing the earth at a future period of existence.

The Folly of Personal Vengeance.

[From the New York Graphic.]

When men undertake to right their individual or family wrongs, they make a sad mess of it. Forgetting that the law is guardian of the individual, and deals straightforwardly with facts, they give way to emotion, and act upon it. Then they employ counsel to prove that this emotion was insane in its nature, having found too late that in attempting to set the wrongs right they have created trouble that no power can quell. When General Cole killed the man whom he accused of an attempt to estrange his wife's affections, he only succeeded in publishing his domestic shame to the world, and attaching a terrible stigma to his children. Mary Burroughs shot the man who had declined to marry her, only that she might write her name among the notorious criminals of our day. The same result has happened in the Walworth murder. A boy of nineteen took upon himself the task of avenging his mother's real or fancied wrongs, and slew his father with the most deliberate coolness. But what wrong has he set right? He has only added "a sorrow's crown of sorrow" to her life. Hitherto the dead man's side of the story has not been heard. It is natural to suppose that his friends will come to the attack by and by, and expose to minute public scrutiny every act of her life, throwing the light of day upon the unhappy years that led to Tuesday's tragedy. All this the mother will owe to her son, and the boy will have time to ponder his folly and his crime in his cell. Perhaps he may arrive at the conclusion many another has reached already—that it were better he should die on the scaffold now, than live to share his mother's sorrow and bear the stigma of a parricide. The truth is, that we have no right to lead an individual life, whether of pleasure, toil, or revenge. A man cannot for an hour keep the influence of his action under his own control. His personal vengeance sacrifices the comfort and safety of all his relatives; his selfish pleasures, when basely pursued, bring shame on a wider circle than he has ever dreamed. If one could always remember that "no man liveth to himself," we should have fewer Epicurean libertines of mature years, and a far less number of Quixotes of revolver and knife.

Laces.

In a recent article in Hearth and Home, N. S. Dodge, writing of laces, says there are certain peculiar conditions necessary to the production of perfect lace. These are, first, the quality of thread; second, the abundance of female labor; and third, the Roman Catholic religion. Belgium, better than all other European countries, possesses the three. Her thread has not, and never had, a rival; her peasant girls, red-cheeked pictures of perfect health, are proverbially industrious; and her upper and lower classes are Catholic devotees.

In the vestries of the old churches of Flemish land there is a wealth of lace upon sacerdotal vestments that is beyond estimate. It has been collecting ever since Isabella's days, was wrought as a labor of love by nuns and other holy ladies, and appears upon the gorgeous apparel of ecclesiastical dignitaries on great days of the church. But in all the world there is no such a collection of every description of lace as at the Vatican. From France and England, from Spain, Portugal, Austria, and Italy, point d'Espagne and point Alencon, Valenciennes, and Honiton, Brussels, Genoese, Argentan, and one knows not what, have been coming as gifts to the church these five hundred years. There are twelve large rooms used exclusively as wardrobes for laces in the Papal Palace.

Though a great deal of old lace has come down in families and in ecclesiastical establishments, and though lace, as an heir loom, is guarded as watchfully as diamonds, no doubt much has been lost. It has been the fashion at times, in different parts of the world, to bury the dead of distinguished families in their lace. This was particularly the case at Corfu. To this day, there are to be found in shops these specimens of antique lace of elegant workmanship, conspicuous for darkness of color and sepulchral smell.

A good lace-maker in England gains a shilling a day and her dinner, working ten hours steadily. In Belgium the girls work an hour longer, and their average receipts are five francs a week and board. In France the work is done by the piece. But it is an unhealthful and uncertain industry, subject to great vicissitudes, dependent on the fickleness of fashion, exacting in its demands, and making such requisitions often upon the nervous system and the eyes as to invite both paralysis and blindness. In olden time it often suffered from sumptuary laws, made almost invariably on account of the jealousy of the highborn.

An Old Duel.

A California paper reprints the story of the duel, thirty years ago, between John Hampden Pleasants, editor of the Richmond Whig, and Thomas Ritchie, Jr., editor of the Richmond Enquirer. The challenge from Pleasants to Ritchie was one of the most extraordinary ever sent: "I will be on the Manchester side of the James river, near the factory between the river and canal, to-morrow morning at five o'clock, armed with rifle, pistol and sword. We will advance and fire on each other till one or the other falls." This was the substance of Mr. Pleasants' challenge. Mr. Ritchie objected to it for various reasons, among which were: "Because it gives the challenging part first choice of time, place and weapons, a right invariably accorded by the 'code' to the challenged; because its terms are savage, sanguinary and revolting to the tastes of civilized society. Notwithstanding these objections, I will be at the place at the time named, armed in the manner described, and will defend myself from any attack made on me." When the duel came off, Pleasants was mortally wounded, but returned Ritchie's fire and continued to advance on him, and, when within striking distance, drew his sword, giving Ritchie a severe cut on the lip, which was all the wound the latter received. Pleasants lingered only a few days, and Ritchie ended his life by remorseful dissipation.

"Seeing Ourselves as Others See Us."

We copy the following from the Providence Journal: The next Indian war should be fought by the editors and newspaper correspondents. A good many of us could be spared, and nobody but the immediate sufferers would be the worse for it. And we hardly open a paper that does not show us how much better the war could be carried on by the writers than by the men to whose experience and sagacity it has been entrusted. An editor, of course, knows everything, else he would be a very unsuitable person for such position, but of all matters on which editorial information and ability and skill are displayed, an Indian war is conspicuous. The rough depots of lava, which are so difficult to be crossed by man and beast, offer no impediment to the editor, and the deadly ambush, the stealthy attack, the treachery, the cruelty of the savages, are trifles to them. Therefore they—we, for we have doubtless done our share of it—explain how easy it is to bring an Indian war to successful termination, quite omitting to take into account the inferiority of our Generals in ability, in experience, in skill, and in all the qualifications for military success, when compared with those of our infallible fraternity.

The following story is told to illustrate the strictness with which the Cunard steamship line is managed. The captain of one of their New York ships having lately married, asked leave to take his wife with him on one voyage. This was granted, but on going to take command when the ship was ready for sea, he found one of his brother captains on board, from whom he learned that though the company had no objections to his taking his wife to America, they were not willing to trust him with the ship too.

City Property.

The committee of the city councils on city property held a meeting last evening, Mr. Samuel Morrow in the chair. The pay roll for the month was passed upon. It amounts to $5,693,60, which includes $5,480, being the estimate on the work done on the lock-up.

By request of the health officer the basement of the 19th ward lock-up was ordered to be drained.

A sub-committee was appointed to examine the two lots in Birmingham and the lot and building lately occupied at the co-operative store in South Pittsburgh, and to report price and terms for same for lock-ups.

The communication from Mrs. Denny relative to Snyder's square in the Twelfth ward was read.

Mr. Duff suggested that there may be thirty-seven years' taxes against the property.

Mr. Jones didn't like the limiting of the use of it to shade trees, &c., and said that if it could be put to any use it would be worth while.

Mr. McCune said he thought the property was now worth about $60,000.

After some little discussion the matter was referred to Mr. McCune, with instructions to see Mrs Denny and ascertain the charges against the property, and the terms upon which it may be obtained.

WOODEN PAVEMENTS.

Meeting of the Committee of Investigation.

Some time since, the Street Committee of Councils appointed a sub-committee to investigate the subject of wooden pavements, with a view to obtaining information as to their durability, economy, etc., and embody the result in a report to Councils. The committee met yesterday, Gen. Pearson in the chair, and proceeded to business. They resolved not to make public their proceedings until a result is reached in the form of a report. It is the intention to go fully into the subject, and the investigation will no doubt take a wide range. The economy in the use of wood, in any form, for paving streets, is exciting earnest discussion in many of the larger cities, and as our citizens have already spent large sums for this kind of pavement and are about to invest still more largely, it will be well for Councils to take such action as will prevent if possible the laying of such pavements as have not stood the proper test.

CITIZENS' MEETING.

Project of Organizing an Exposition and Mechanics' Institute—Call from the Mayor.

"Resolved, That the Mayor be instructed and requested to call a public meeting of the citizens of this city on next Monday, June 16, to consider and devise means and plans for the establishment of an Exposition and Mechanics' Institute Association in this city, and that the citizens of Allegheny and adjoining cities be requested to attend the meeting and co-operate with it."

June 9, 1873.

In compliance with the above resolution of Councils, I respectfully request the citizens of Pittsburgh, Allegheny, and surrounding boroughs, to meet in the Common Council Chamber of the city of Pittsburgh, Monday, June 16th, at two o'clock, P. M., to express their views and take action in establishing an Exposition and Mechanics' Institute Association in this city and vicinity.

JAMES BLACKMORE, Mayor.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, PITTSBURGH, June 12, 1873.

TROTTING.

Exciting and Interesting Race at Friendship Park—Large Attendance and Lively Betting—King William Wins—Toledo Boy Second and Ada Third.

Friendship Driving Park was opened yesterday under auspicious circumstances. This beautiful park is located near Penn avenue a short distance this side of East Liberty and is arranged in excellent style and with all conveniences of stands, stabling etc. The track is a half mile one, broad and solid, and yesterday, was in splendid condition. The weather was fine and brought out a large attendance, vehicles of every kind being put into requisition to carry parties to and from the course.

THE MATCH.

The opening event was a trotting match, best three in five, for a purse of $800—$500 for the winning horse, $200 for the second, and $100 for the third. Entries were only for horses not having beaten 2:40, and five home horses were put in. These were King William, Toledo Boy, Ada, Perry and Hot Punch. In regard to the horses there was little known to the public, and it was after the first heat that the crowd began to measure their points.

THE BETTING

took a wide range, and it was rather a matter of pride with owners and their friends as to the merits of the horses than as to a knowledge of their abilities. The pool selling on the grounds commenced at half-past one, and before the first heat was commenced about eighty pools had been sold, Toledo Boy being the favorite. King William came next in the esteem of the crowd, but apparently more in the way of guess than otherwise. The horses were on the track before the hour of starting, and were warmed up by brisk trots over the course.

TIME CALLED.

The Judges, David Galway and Paul Zimmerman, took their places on the stand shortly before two o'clock, and soon after the bell rang to call the horses to time. There was a difficulty in getting them together, however, and some seven or eight ineffectual attempts were made before a start was had. The jockeys appeared to be suspicious of one another, while with one or two of the horses there appeared to be a constant break in endeavoring to make the start. The toss for positions put the horses in the following order: Toledo Boy, King William, Perry, Ada and Hot Punch. King William appeared to be in the rear in all the starts attempted, and his driver shouted to the judges to give the word "go" at any time, providing he was on a trot and not more than three or four paces behind. This exhibition of confidence inspired the friends of the Kaiser, and was received by them with satisfaction.

THE FIRST HEAT.

At about half-past two o'clock the word was given and the horses started upon the first heat, amid great excitement. At the first quarter Toledo Boy had fallen to the second position, being led by Perry and with the King, Ada and Hot Punch following in order. At the half mile they remained in the same order, but with William slowly but steadily gaining by his earnest work. Soon after passing the third quarter he lapped Perry and at the end of the first heat was in the lead several lengths. The Boy also moved ahead of Perry and Ada came in last. Time 2:38.

THE SECOND HEAT.

During the twenty minutes rest, the pool selling commenced with renewed interest, King William being the favorite. On the second heat the King made a very bad start, and his driver getting out of patience did not handle him well, resulting in a break and loss of several lengths. At the quarter pole he was last, while Perry as before led off with the Boy, Ada and the others following. On the second quarter William was still behind, while the Boy had gained the first position followed closely by Ada and Perry fourth on the list. On the third quarter there was little change, and the friends of the Kaiser were somewhat dampened in spirits. The horse, however, gained in the last quarter and advanced one position, while Perry took the last, and the heat was won by Toledo Boy. Time 2:44.

THIRD HEAT.

At the start of the third heat the odds were rather in favor of the Boy, but still there were strong hopes held for William. On the first quarter the Boy led, with Ada closely following, but in the second quarter William advanced from his fourth position to the second, yet the Boy still led. Until the last quarter there was little change, further than that the King was gaining upon Toledo, and finally came in first. Second heat for King William. Time 2:41¾.

THE FOURTH HEAT.

This was an exciting heat, and while the start was rather against the favorite, he being fourth in the list, on the second quarter he had placed himself first. King William continued to hold his own throughout the rest of the heat and came in the winner, with the Boy second, Ada third and Hot Punch and Perry bringing up the rear. Time 24¼.

The race was admitted by all to have been well conducted, and every one expressed satisfaction with it. It is said that about $5,000 changed hands on the result.

THE DIOCESAN CONVENTION.

Closing Proceedings—Election of Officers—Final Adjournment.

The eighth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Pittsburgh resumed its session in Trinity church, Pittsburgh, yesterday morning. By request of the Bishop, Dean Smith presided.

The charter of the Church of the Nativity, Chartiers, Allegheny county, was presented by Rev. Scarborough, and on his motion was referred to the Committee on the Admission of Parishes.

On motion of Mr. Hill Burgwin, it was resolved that the Treasurer of the Convention be requested to pay the actual traveling expenses of the clergy to and from the Convention.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers then came up, when Mr. Wm. May withdrew the name of Mr. G. P. Van Doren, as a nominee for Treasurer of the Convention. On motion of the Rev. Dr. Scarborough, the balloting for officers was dispensed with and the nominees elected. The following officers were then unanimously elected by viva voce:

Registrar of the Diocese—Rev. R. S. Smith.

Treasurer of Episcopal Fund—Malcolm Hay, Esq.

Treasurer of Convention—John B. Jackson, Esq.

Treasurer of Christian Fund—Joseph H. Hill, Esq.

Standing Committee—Rev. Thomas Crumpton, President; Rev. John Scarborough, D.D., Rev. Benjamin F. Brooks, D.D., J. H. Shoenberger, Hill Burgwin, Thomas M. Howe.

Finance Committee—Malcolm Hay, W. H. Bryan, Josiah King, H. J. Lynch, E. P. Jones

Clerical Deputies to the General Convention—Rev. John Scarborough, J. F. Spaulding, Rev. M. A. Johnson, Henry S. Getz.

Lay Deputies to the General Convention—Mr. Jno. H. Shoenberger, George W. Cass, Hill Burgwin, B. B. Vincent.

Supplement Deputies to the General Convention—Rev. Wm. White, D. D.; Rev. A. S. Smith, Rev. G. W. G. Lewis, Rev. B. F. Brooks, D.D.; Mr. E. S. Golden, Mr. Josiah King, Mr. Malcom Hay and W. C. Kelso.

Board of Trustees of the Diocese of Pittsburgh—Hill Burgwin, Joseph C. Hill, James Bredin, Alfred Howell, John H. Shoenberger, J. P. Henderson, W. W. Smith and Reuben Miller.

Board of Missions—Revs. P. F. Finch, De Witt C. Byllesby, Wm. White, D. D., Henry S. Getz, and George C. Rafter, and Messrs. J. H. Shoenberger, T. M. Howe, W. W. Smith, W. C. Kelso and E. S. Golden.

Trustees of the General Theological Seminary—Revs. A. J. Coster, M. A. Tolman and J. F. Spaulding, Wm. White, D. D., John Scarborough, and Messrs. John H. Shoenberger, Geo. W. Cass and Hill Burgwin.

The chair then called for reports of regular committees.

The Special Committee appointed at the last Convention to report as to the expediency of forbidding vestries, &c., made a report which was accepted, and the committee discharged.

Reports were also made by the Committee of Federate Council of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, and the committee on the subject of the Religious Celebration of the Centenary of our National Independence, the Committee on the State of the Church, and others, which were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Hay, it was resolved that the next annual Convention meet in Trinity church, Pittsburgh, on the second Wednesday of June next.

The thanks of the Convention were then accorded the Rector and Warden of Trinity church for the use of the building, and the choir for its services during the Convention. Other business of minor detail being disposed of the Convention was adjourned and dismissed with the blessing.

ENFORCEMENT OF ORDINANCES.

The Fire Commission Take a Hand—An Interesting Interview.

The remarkably prompt and truly rigid enforcement of the new "sign" ordinance by Mayor Blackmore, while against the better judgment of his clerk, called forth unqualified praises from both press and public generally. The reader will please notice that it was the prompt and rigid enforcement which called forth the praise, not the ordinance.) The press during late days also announced, and the public looked for, an enforcement of the ordinance relative to the obstruction of the streets and alleys by idle vehicles of all kinds. In this matter there was a hope that great good would be done, and good has been done. The more public streets have not been obstructed of late, and credit is due the Mayor for his action, through the police. But obstructions in lanes and alleys, while not so generally a nuisance, are still, in some respects, unendurable and dangerous. So thought, for instance, the Fire Commission, when they appointed a committee consisting of Col. Stewart, Mr. Walton and Mr. Chambers, to wait upon the Mayor and request that he continue the work, and have the lanes and alleys cleared of vehicles, as well as the more public streets.

The Committee feeling the urgency of the matter promptly waited upon the Mayor at his office yesterday morning. They found him with his painstaking and industrious clerk at their customary places, and the business in hand was at once opened. Col. Stewart, as Chairman, acted as spokesman, as he is well able to do.

The Colonel reminded the Mayor of the fact that the firemen are called at a second's notice to all and every portion of the city. They must take the shortest route to the scene of a fire or of an alarm, and cannot in any case choose their route. The call may be at any hour of the day or night, and it may be from a quarter to be reached only by the narrowest and meanest of alleys. Indeed the chances are that in nine cases out of ten it is an alley or a court off an alley. All the more necessity therefore that alleys should be clear of vehicles, as well as public streets. In the former there is the more need because there is danger to the firemen, whose lives at best are constantly risked. A collision with vehicles is always imminent, and aside from the obstruction and delay in alleys there is great danger.

During the remarks of Colonel Stewart, Mr. Patterson proceeded to reply for the Mayor, to which Colonel Stewart objected, having addressed the Mayor only, and having business, only, with him.

Mayor Blackmore replied that he had endeavored to enforce the ordinance and had found it a difficult matter. He had to some extent succeeded, however, and while he thought the matter more particularly pertaining to the Street Commissioners' duty he would again instruct the police regarding it.

Col. Stewart asked the Mayor out to look at Virgin alley that he would find it so blockaded with vehicles that it was not only dangerous to the firemen in case they were called there, but almost impassable.

The Mayor promised to see to it and left the office, stating that he hoped that if enforced there would not be a repeal of it in consequence, as in the case of the sign ordinance.

This abruptly closed the interview, and we understand that the Fire Commission will, if necessary, appeal to Councils. The committee have instructed the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department to call upon the Commission for teams with which to remove any obstructions.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT ROBBERY.

Another Indictment Found Against Hampton.

The grand jury yesterday found another indictment against young Hampton, alias Morrison, charged with complicity in the larceny of the box of valuables from the Safe Deposit Company. The indictment contains three counts—the first charging larceny of notes, scrip and gold coin amounting to $3,600; the second charging the larceny of the Allegheny Valley Railroad bond, and the third charging the entering of the building of the Safe Deposit Company with intent to commit a felony.

It is said that another party has been arrested in the East, and that all the facts in regard to the larceny are now fully known or will be developed on the trial, which is expected to take place in about two weeks. Parties who have been unjustly suspected will be completely vindicated, and certain newspaper "theories" will be exploded, so it is said.

Philomathic Circle.

The last reception of the Philomathic Circle was given at their hall, Fifth avenue, Wednesday evening. There was a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen, and all expressed themselves as highly pleased with the entertainment. The debate was on the subject: "Which affords the greatest field for eloquence, the Pulpit or Bar." Messrs. Totten and O'Malley took the affirmative and Messrs. McFarland and O'Keefe the negative. Recitations were given by Messrs. McCaffrey, Totten, McBride and others, and at the close Dr. Keyser made a few well-timed remarks.

THE MARKETS.

Mr. Cooke, from the Committee on Markets presents a report showing receipts as follows:

Clerk of Markets	$1,577 44
Second Ward Scales	375 78
Diamond Scales	207 14
Fourth Ward Scales	32 07
	$2,192 07

The committee also reported adversely to petition of grocers to have the sale of groceries forbidden in the markets.

Report received and filed.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Mr. Hastings, chairman of the Committee on Fire Engines, presented a report containing three resolutions. First, authorizing purchase of second-class fire engine for Ninth ward; second, authorizing committee to advertise for proposals for building of two hose carriages—one for Troy Hill and the other for Ninth ward; third, authorizing erection of Fire Alarm through Pleasant Valley and Troy Hill.

Some discussion ensued upon the resolution authorizing the purchase of a steam fire engine for the Ninth ward.

Mr. Vogtley moved to amend by instructing the Committee to receive proposals from all the Fire Engine Manufacturers and report to Councils. Lost by a vote of 9 to 13. (It was stated in explanation that the cost of the engine contemplated by the city was $4,500. The committee had adopted this style after a careful examination of all the styles.) The yeas and nays were then called upon a suspension of the rules, to pass the resolution finally, yeas 14; nays 8. The resolution was not carried, a two-thirds vote being required. The other resolutions also went over to first reading.

Mr. Price, from the Committee on Wooden Buildings, reported an ordinance granting Lewis Eicesser permission to erect a frame building on Hopkins alley.

Report received and ordinance laid on the table.

Mr. Brown, from the Committee on Gas presented a report, showing a balance of $7,873 37 in their appropriation, and recommending the erection of lamps as follows: Union avenue, between Montgomery avenue and North alley; corner of Davis alley and Veto street; corner of Magnolia and Franklin streets; corner of Bank and Marshall streets; corner of Coleman and Marshall streets; Pennsylvania avenue, between Manhattan and Fulton streets; Western avenue, between Manhattan and Fulton streets; Marshall street, between Bank and Coleman streets; corner of Magnolia and Adams streets.

Report received and resolution adopted.

Mr. Voegtly, from the Committee on Printing, offered their report containing a resolution providing that hereafter no bill for printing should be paid unless certified to by the Controller. Report received and resolution adopted.

Mr. Price moved a reconsideration of the action in laying over the resolutions from the Fire Engines Committee, in reference to the extension of the fire alarm and the advertising for proposals for hose carriages. The reconsideration was agreed to, and the two resolutions were then passed finally.

Mr. Cochran moved to reconsider the action of laying on the table the ordinance granting Lewis Eicesser privilege to erect a wooden building. Carried, and the ordinance then passed finally.

Mr. Hastings, a resolution instructing the Printing Committee to furnish the clerks to committees with postal cards, to notify members of Councils of meetings, during the illness of the Messenger. Passed.

Mr. Mosser, resolution requesting the Street Committee to report what steps had been taken toward the purchase of the Herr's island bridge. Passed.

Select Council business was then taken up and concurrence had except in the matter of grading and paving of McDonald alley; the ordinance passed in S. C.; C. C. laid over until next meeting.

Adjourned.

Western Nail Association.

A meeting of the Western Nail Association was held yesterday when it was resolved to stop all production for six weeks from July 1st next. The association will meet again on the 26th inst.

An old wall in the rear of Galway's malt house, 240 Penn avenue, fell in yesterday, doing but little damage.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

The case of A. T. Ames vs. the Roberts Run Coal Company, in bankruptcy, on the trial list of the Williamsport session, was continued by consent of counsel.

In the case of William Anschutz & Co. vs. J. A. Campbell and Co., alleged bankrupts, the hearing on the motion for an injunction was postponed until the 13th inst.

In the matter of Standley & Sicklesmith, bankrupts, a rule was granted on the assignees to show cause why they should not pay to Emily Standley, wife of one of said bankrupts, the sum of eight hundred dollars, exemption under the bankrupt act; rule returnable on the 5th of July next.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Collier.

At the opening of Court, Judge Collier charged the jury in the case of officer Cunningham, charged with assault and battery in illegally arresting Mr. McGimpsey. The jury were instructed that they were the sole judges of the facts; that if from the evidence in the case they were satisfied that Mr. McGimpsey and his friends were obstructing the sidewalk, and refused to move on when requested to do so, the officer had a right to make the arrest. On the other hand, if there was no obstruction of the street, and no disturbance, the officer had no right to make the arrest, and his act would be assault and battery. The jury found a verdict of guilty. Sentence was deferred.

John Burke was convicted of assault and battery.

George Thompson, charged with the larceny of jewelry from Bigg's jewelry store, on Smithfield street, where he was employed, entered a plea of guilty. Sentence deferred.

In the case of Alderman J. M. Shafer, indicted for committing an assault and battery upon Mrs. Meyer, the jury found a verdict of not guilty. The prosecutrix was directed to pay the costs.

John Williams, charged with stealing a watch from R. H. Adams, was tried and convicted.

Frank Lynch plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery.

Ann Dugan, the female who stole a quantity of clothing and jewelry from the house of Mr. Maginn, on Federal street, Allegheny, entered pleas of nolo contendere to two indictments, and was remanded for sentence.

Robert Frazier, indicted for larceny and receiving stolen goods, on oath of George Sproull, plead guilty to the larceny of a silver watch and gold chain belonging to the deponent, of the value of $110.

In the case of Christ. Beisel, indicted for assault and battery on oath of David Meldrum, the jury found a verdict of guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Thomas Thompson, indicted for assault and battery on oath of James Griffiths. A verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to mercy, was rendered.

Lynn Magoffin was then placed on trial for assault and battery on oath of Mr. Dugan. The case is on trial.

TRIAL LIST FOR TO-DAY.

Commonwealth vs.

E. Peterson, two cases.
Benjamin Scott.
Michael Sheehan.
George Wittmer.
F Young.
Thomas Hunkley.
John Martin.
John Morton.
John Wiley.
Thomas Grogan.
Wm. McCully, et al.
Elizabeth McCrary, et al.
Agnes M. Johnson.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

The Court charged the jury in the case of the Pittsburgh Petroleum Company, for use of Dr. Hostetter, vs. the Standard Oil Company. After the Court had adjourned, the jury agreed and sealed their verdict, which will be rendered this morning. No other case was taken up.

Common Pleas—Judges Sterrett and Stowe.

This Court is still engaged on the argument list. Among the cases argued yesterday was that of the Guardians of the Poor of Pittsburgh vs. the Allegheny County Home and Allegheny City, which appeared on the Quarter Sessions list. The argument came up on the exceptions to the report of the Commissioners appointed to apportion the interest of the several districts, in the County Home property, a division being necessitated in consequence of the consolidation of the outer wards. The case was ably argued by Messrs. Woods and Hamilton for the County Home, and by Messrs. Acheson and Kuhn for the Board of Guardians of the Poor. The Court took charge of the papers and reserved its decision.

EQUALIZATION.

Committee on Appeals at Work—A Number of Cases Acted Upon.

Agreeably to announcement, the Committee on Appeals, empowered by the recent enactment of a supplementary ordinance to the Equalization ordinance, to hear grievances and to adjust them, commenced the work last evening. City Attorney Bigelow and Assessor Phelps were present.

Nine appeals having been made in proper form, were duly considered and acted upon. In two instances the reductions asked were allowed; four were partially reduced; two were refused and one case was laid over.

The appeals were as follows:

Dr. A. G. McCandless, property in the Eighth ward, assessed by the Board $26,490—valued by the owner at $21,850. Reduction granted.

Same party, property assessed at $6,900—valued by owner at $5,000. Reduction granted.

P. C. Cortelyou, non-resident, property in Fourteenth ward, valued at $20,000—valued by owner at $6,900. Laid over to hear further.

Gus. C. Davis, Sixth ward, assessed at $7,920—valued by owner $4,000. Reduced to $6,000.

Charlotte Caskey, Sixth ward, assessed $12,720—valued at $9,500. Reduced to $11,500.

D. R. Goucher, thirty-six lots East End, assessed at $13,800—valued at $7,000. Reduced to $10,500.

M. Mawhinney & Bro., Fourteenth ward, assessed $115,400—valued at $86,750. Reduced to $96,300.

Jacob Dallmeyer, Fifteenth ward, assessed $11,550—valued at $5,300. Reduction refused.

George Hamilton, Sixth ward, assessed $7,700—valued at $6,000. Reduction refused.

James Shidle, Eighth ward, assessed $8,260—valued at $5,000. Reduced to $6,000.

The Committee adjourned to meet again this evening.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

The change of programme given last night by Tony Pastor's troupe was an improvement on the very excellent bills of the preceding nights. The audience was very large, and, as usual, intensely delighted. Some changes may be expected to-night, and all the company will appear. Tony has gained a permanent place in the esteem of our theater goers, and it will be a public calamity when his voice is heard no longer in our midst. There are but three more opportunities to hear and see this unusually talented company, viz: to-night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening. By the end of the week everybody will have enjoyed the Pastor and his flock.

Livery and Sale Stables.

Messrs. R. H. Patterson & Co., the well known livery firm, have recently enlarged their old and well known stables and they are now among the most extensive in the West. They have been extended to Seventh avenue and the firm have room for one hundred and twenty-five head of horses. The stock of horses and vehicles of all kinds kept by the firm is one of the largest and best in the city, and those who may want to hire can find no better place to be accommodated. Horses are kept at livery at the lowest rates and horses are bought and sold on commission. We have pleasure in commending Messrs. R. H. Patterson & Co. Remember the place, Seventh avenue below Smithfield street.

Liquor Product and Tax.

From the Internal Revenue office, T. W. Davis, Esq., Collector, we learn that during the last year the production of and tax on spirits and malt liquors in the district was as follows:

	Barrels.
Whisky Manufactured	110,600
Beer and ale manufactured	169,800
Tax on whisky	$294,000
Tax on ale and beer	169,000

The total tax collected from spirits and malt liquors, as will be seen, was $463,800.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

PROSECUTIONS are threatened against violators of the game laws.

PATRICK SHERRIDAN is prosecuted before Deputy Mayor Barker, of the South Side, for selling liquor on the Sabbath day.

THE CONTEST for the Mayoralty of Allegheny is not uninteresting, even at this early day—although one of the contestants is slack.

WM. H. McGEE, formerly County Commissioner, died last evening at his residence on the North Side. He had been ailing for some years.

A LITTLE child of Mr. John Tillender, of Federal street, Allegheny, fell from a balcony Wednesday and was considerably hurt.

SCOTTY WARD and Young White, implicated in the row in the Fifth ward last Sunday, were yesterday fined fifty dollars each by Mayor Blackmore.

THE NEW YORK World records the death of Amos Quito, of Newark. In sections where the sand flies abound as in Jersey, such occurrences are not unnatural.

THE MUSIC is to be enjoyed in the West Park, Allegheny, when the committees have conferred some more. The next best thing to an out-door concert, is a conference in the pavilion.

REV. DR. KENDALL, one of the former pastors of the Third Presbyterian Church, is in the city. His old parishioners and friends will have an opportunity to meet him this evening at the Sociable in the Third Church parlor.

ABOUT eight o'clock last evening two buggies collided at the forks of the road, Penn avenue, by which two ladies were thrown from one of the vehicles and one of them severely hurt. We did not learn their names.

DAVID HALL, of Allegheny, one of Mr. W. B. Ross's victims, had to go to jail yesterday, to await his trial for illegal liquor selling. Brown, another trespasser, has pleaded guilty to five charges. And still the warfare goes on.

ALDERMAN D. L. SMITH yesterday arrested eight boys for disturbing the congregation at the Avery street colored Mission Church, Allegheny. The costs were paid, and the boys discharged on their promise of future good behavior.

THE United States Railroad Clerks' Mutual Insurance Association, of this city, held a meeting last evening, and elected delegates to the National Association, which is to meet on the 18th inst. at St. Louis. John Layng and Morris Moody were elected.

EARLY yesterday morning a man jumped from the second story of a house on East street, Allegheny, and injured himself seriously, if not fatally. He has been insensible since, and no reason can be given for the leap, except that he was a victim of somnambulism.

SAYS the Harrisburg State Journal: "Every city in the country that owns a park, has a prolific source of political ring corruption in its management, and a rich subject of comment for its local journalists. Pittsburgh is among the complainants." Now let the Journal man come on with his little microscope, and find that park for us.

THE Harrisburg State Journal says: "Pittsburg is agitating the question of holding an industrial exposition. As one of the great centres of American mechanism, it is certainly a fit locality in which to gather the products of genius and invention for exhibition, and we know of no city where the people, more than those of Pittsburgh, would take such active and liberal measures for the success of such an affair."

REV. J. G. BUTLER, D. D., pastor of the Memorial Church, Washington, D. C., and chaplain of the House of Representatives, passed through the city a few days ago, on his way to the convention of the General Synod of the Lutheran church at Canton, Ohio. He has promised to return and preach here on next Sunday, the 15th inst., in Messiah Lutheran Church, on Ninth street, below Penn, both morning and evening.

MR. E. G. BROWNE is one of those gentlemen whom it is pleasant to see about a newspaper office—and that is putting it with exceeding emphasis. Mr. Browne is now in this city regulating, with distinguished success, the financial affairs of Tony Pastor's troupe. It is the pleasantest thing to be said of the troupe, that they have provided themselves with so able and courteous a treasurer.

OFFICER JOHN MOORE, one of the best officers on the police force, and who keeps disorderly spirits in check at Trimble's Varieties, has been tendered a complimentary benefit at that theater, which will take place this evening. A host of performers have volunteered for the occasion, who, with the regular company, will appear in a bill of great length and unusual excellence. John is a deserving young man, and the public should recognize the fact by crowding the house to-night.

THE Chicago Tribune says: "Mr. Bartley T. Campbell, who acquired quite a reputation as a playwright, through his connection with Hooley's Theater, has gone to Long Branch to enjoy the sea-breeze and the society of President Grant during the summer. His best productions were "Risks," "Peril," "Fate," and if he had not meddled with 'Ye Gentle Savage,' he would have been very fortunate in his Chicago career. He has done well. He is a young man of promise, and may yet be famous. All his friends wish him a pleasant sojourn by the side of the Atlantic."

THOSE who feel inclined to put a little of their spare change where it will be productive of great good, should remember that the annual Fair and Festival for the benefit of the Church Home will take place at that excellent institution, corner of Penn avenue and Fortieth streets, commencing at two o'clock this afternoon, and terminating at ten o'clock this evening. The arrangements for the affair have been entrusted to the hands of well known ladies, who have spared no labor to insure enjoyment to all who may attend. Let all who can do so attend. Supper will be served from five until eight o'clock.

In the above named apparatus the wants of the trade have been carefully studied, and we now present an apparatus in which purity, strength and durability are combined with unequaled workmanship and elegance of design. Before purchasing, please call and examine our samples, or send for catalogue. We are able to present many new and elegant designs, and this season have many novel features to produce never before brought out. We also deal in every article appertaining to the business, more specially a full line of extra choice fruit essences of the following flavors, in pound bottles, at low prices:

Vanilla,
Lemon,
Strawberry,
Orgeat,
Nectar,
Coffee,
Raspberry,
Pineapple,
Orange,
Sherbet,
Hock,
Chocolate,
Ginger,
Sarsaparilla,
Fruit Acid,
Peach,
Rose,
Blackberry.

In an effort to produce an attractive apparatus, we have not lost sight of the essential point of a good apparatus—viz: purity of production. This has had our closest attention. Every part coming in contact with soda water or syrups is thoroughly coated with pure silver or block tin. Don't forget to call at McClarran & McKennan's drug store, No. 85 Market street, Pittsburgh.

Furniture

Is something everybody seems to be on the hunt for at this time of the year. It is the question just now, "Where can good, substantial, first class furniture be purchased at reasonable prices?" To such who ask this question we would inform that all who examine the goods at the establishment of Messrs. J. Meyers & Son, No. 412 and 414 Penn avenue, east of the railroad crossing, cannot fail to get what they want, and at prices invariably satisfactory to the average pocket-book. The best styles of parlor, chamber, dining-room and office furniture are on hand, and all kinds of tastes can be pleased. A large stock of Soper's patent school furniture, and patent bed lounges also on hand.
